PEACE MOVES IN RAIL STRIKE ARE SUSPENDED; ROADS PREPARE TO USE NON-UNION EMPLOYES

DECISION IN PIPELESS FURNACE DISPUTE

CINCINNATI, O., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Certain patents under which the Monitor Stove Company, Cincinnati, has been manufacturing its pipeless furnace, were declared to be invalid for lack of invention in a decision handed down by Judge John Weld Peck in United States district court yesterday.

The combination of suits growing out of the heater cases and affected by the decision involved the Williamson Heater Company, Cincinnati, and an Omaha concern on one side and the Monitor Stove Company, Cincinnati, and a Homer, Michigan, company on the other.

The decision is said to be an important one in the pipeless furnace industry, as more than 150 manufacturers of pipeless furnaces were directly interested in the outcome of the case.

In opinions handed down by Judge Pack, orders are issued for the dismissal of the patent infringement suits.

Both companies sued for amounts aggregating several hundred thousand dollars. It is understood both principals will appeal.

WOMAN HELD FOR "STONE AGE MURDER"

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Whereabouts of Mrs. Alberta Meadows on the night before she was the victim of what has become known locally as the "Stone Age Murder", because it was accomplished with a hammer and a rock, and where A. L. Phillips, husband of the woman accused of the crime, spent the night, were subjects for inquiry today.

Mrs. Peggy Caffe, upon whose testimony the Los Angeles county grand jury yesterday returned an indictment charging murder against Mrs. Clara Phillips, now held at Tucson, Arizona, declared that the night before she accompanied Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Meadows on a ride in Mrs. Meadows' automobile to the lonely spot where the young widow's body was found.

Claim She Admitted Killing

Mrs. Phillips was said by her husband to have told him before her hurried departure on the trip to El Paso, Texas, that ended in her being taken from the train at Tucson, that she killed Mrs. Meadows because of jealousy which she asserted was unwarranted. And, according to the story of Mrs. Caffe, who was present during the alleged slaying, Mrs. Phillips accused Mrs. Meadows of having been intimate with her husband and of having accepted presents from him. Phillips has declined to say where he spent last Tuesday night.

Ohio Guardsmen Held Under Arms Ready For Emergency

COLUMBUS, O., July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Three hundred Ohio National Guardsmen were under arms today ready to move in their own motor trucks to any part of the state where their services might be needed to preserve order in the coal and railroad strikes. The troops—a battalion of the 166th infantry, a machine gun company and two motor truck companies—assembled at their armories following the issuance of orders by Governor Davis late yesterday that they be held in readiness for any emergency that might arise.

Col. Haubrich In Charge

Colonel Robert Haubrich, of the 166th, was placed in general command of the mobilized units which consist of Company B, Zanesville; Company I, Columbus, and Company K, Delaware, all of the 166 infantry, and machine gun Company D, of Zanesville, and motor truck companies 145 and 147, of Circleville, and Columbus, respectively.

Eye On Crestline

Governor Davis in calling together the guardsmen did not announce where they might be sent. Unconfirmed rumors were to the effect that the situation at Crestline, where the Pennsylvania Railroad shops are located, was being watched closely. City officials there, however, denied that there had been serious trouble. There was outward indications that the men would be sent into the coal fields for the present.

Force Extremely Mobile

In absence of information as to any possible destination of the troops, it was pointed out that with 27 motor trucks available at all times, the force was extremely mobile and could be transported quickly to any point where needed. The infantry and machine gun companies are quartered at their home armories, while the truck companies will be mobilized at the state fair grounds here, practically in the center of the area from which the

One Shot In Strike At Carbondale, Pa.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 15.—(By the associated Press)—One man was shot and slightly injured in connection with the shopmen's strike at Carbondale, 16 miles north of here, early today. He is Joseph Walker, a citizen, who was on his way home when he was fired upon, it is alleged by strike-breakers quartered in a foundry of the Delaware and Hudson railroad.

The police claim fourteen shots were fired at Walker and eight other young men.

An hour later a crowd gathered and attempted to break into the state armory to get guns. One door had been forced when police arrived and dispersed the crowd. Later the situation was such that deputies were rounded up and sent to the scene of the trouble.

Nation's' League Council To Hold First Meeting

LONDON, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—For the first time since its organization, the council of the League of Nations is to meet in London. The sessions, which, it is expected, will last ten days, will be held in St. James' palace, beginning Monday of next week, and will be attended by an unusually impressive array of ministers and diplomats.

The Earl of Balfour, Great Britain's acting foreign minister, will preside.

Pilot's Quick Act Saves Life

When this British naval plane took off from a battleship deck, its engine went dead and it nose-dived into shallow water. Pilot Harrison scrambled from his seat to the observer's pit where he can be seen waiting to be rescued.

Germany Must Make Payment

PARIS, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Germany's July payment of 32,000,000 gold marks for reparations, which the reparations commission recently refused to cancel, was to be deposited some time today, principally in British and Belgian banks, according to unofficial information reaching the reparations commission. Formal notice of the receipt of the money, however, is not expected by the commission until Monday. The payment is due today.

Anarchist Held For Shooting In Paris

PARIS, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Gustav Bouret, the young anarchist, who yesterday fired at Police Prefect Naudin, mistaking him for President Millerand, presented an un-prepossessing appearance in his cell this morning as he awaited arraignment on a charge of "attempt to commit premeditated and wilful murder," conviction for which carries the death sentence.

The assassin is a tall skeleton-like figure and in an advanced stage of tuberculosis. He was employed as a draftsman in an automobile factory, but himself printed the weekly Anarchist Youth, which he founded.

"Coal-State" Senators And Hoover To Confer

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—A conference of senators from the coal producing states was arranged for this afternoon with Secretary Hoover. Senator Pepper, Republican, Pelmsylvania, called the conference at the suggestion, it was said, of Mr. Hoover, but senators were not informed what particular phase of the coal situation the secretary desired to take up with them.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Members of the general policy committee of the miners' union, the body having full power to decide for all the coal workers now on strike in the bituminous fields and on work suspension in the anthracite fields, held a two hour session today, during which John L. Lewis, president of the organization, recommended that President Harding's arbitration proposal for strike settlement be unqualifiedly rejected.

The discussion, which began among the 150 odd subordinate officials of the miners' union, had barely gotten under way when a noon recess was taken. The first speeches made by committee members were said to have supported Mr. Lewis' position in general. Participants in the meeting expected a vote before night to determine finally the union's position.

Mr. Lewis was also understood to have recommended that the union refuse to submit to arbitration any of the working conditions established under former contracts with the operators and now protested. This includes the check-off systems of collecting dues for the union from the employers' pay rolls.

Rail Officials Beaten By Masked Men

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Chattanooga's first violence as the result of the strike of railroad shopmen occurred last night when five masked men took Bernard Mallon, Jr., from the Southern yards, where he was at work, and gave him a slight beating, a stab in the back with a knife and a warning not to let them catch him in the yards again or he would be killed.

Mr. Mallon, who is connected with the general manager's office in Cincinnati as transportation inspector, has been in Chattanooga more than a week doing duty in the yards. He is in an official capacity with the road and has been doing strike duty, as have other officials.

Mr. Mallon was not seriously hurt.

Senator Stopped By Custom Sleuths

MONTPELIER, VERMONT, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—United States Senator William P. Dillingham, while motoring over the Waterbury-Montpelier road yesterday, was stopped by customs officers, who were searching for bootleggers. Senator Dillingham's only comment was, "This is the first time I have ever been held up—an interesting experience."

Duluth Plans Gift For Sculling Champ

DULUTH, MINN., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Duluth may go ahead with plans to present Walter Hodver, world's amateur singles sculling champion, with a substantial gift when he returns home from England late this month, it was announced today. More than $15,000 has been pledged to the fund. Henry Penn Burke, of Philadelphia, president of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, wired officials of the Duluth Boat Club that gifts, other than money, would not affect Hoover's status as an amateur.

SHORTAGE OF FOOD LOOMS IN IRISH DISTRICTS

LONDON, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—A serious food shortage threatens the civilian population in the areas occupied by the Republican military forces in Ireland, according to statements from free state sources. The stories of serious privations are ascribed mainly to the commandeering of food supplies for the use of the insurgent troops. These supplies, it is said, have been seized without regard for the needs of the people.

The Republicans are declared to be living on the country in the manner of the invaders of feudal times. Destruction of bridges and removal of rails is said to be adding considerably to the suffering of the population, as supplies can not reach even those districts where the insurgents are not immediately operating.

ITALIAN WINS AUTO RACE

STRASBURG, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Felix Nazzaro, of Italy, won the eighth grand prix automobile race here today. His time for the distance, a fraction under 500 miles, was six hours, seventeen minutes, two seconds, and his average 127.7 kilometers per hour, breaking the grand prix record.

Orders Treasury Certificates Redeemed

Motor Trucks To Be Used To Carry Mails At Several Points

STRIKE DEVELOPMENTS

(By The Associated Press)

White House officials still expressed hope of peace today, despite the apparent failure of railroad labor board members to obtain a settlement.

Railroad executives, on the other hand, had practically abandoned all hope and prepared to open all shops with non-union men, while the national strike committee conferred over yesterday's peace proposals.

Investigators for Secretary of War Weeks and Governor Neff of Texas, were to report on whether troops should be sent to protect railroad property at Denison, Texas.

Slight disorders occurred at Carbondale, Pa., and Chattanooga, Tenn. All other trouble centers reported quiet. The postoffice department inaugurated motor mail trains between Bedford and Switz City, Ind.

The American Federation of Railway Workers of Cleveland voted to go on strike next Monday. Many members have already quit.

CHICAGO, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Virtually abandoning hope of an early settlement of the railroad strike, following the failure of last night's conferences, railroad executives today prepared to make a determined effort to reopen shops with non-union employes, according to a high official of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

This official, who declined to be quoted directly, said peace moves would be suspended for the present, as the carriers and strikers were unable to find any common ground for starting negotiations when Chairman Ben Hooper sought to get them together yesterday.

The stumbling block in the path of settlement, it was said at the railroad board, was the union's demand for restoration of seniority and other privileges to the strikers. The roads indicated to Chairman Hooper that the men who have stuck by their employers and the new employes enlisted will be placed in the seniority they have thereby obtained.

B. M. Jewell, president of the federated shop crafts, still held out hope. He remarked incidentally that the strike would "be more effective two weeks from today, than today."

Yesterday's session between Chairman Hooper acting as an official envoy of the railroads and the union leaders ended in what was apparently an unbreakable deadlock. Of the four main questions at issue not a single conciliatory step was taken on any one. The farming out of shop work by the railroads, declared illegal by the board, is the biggest stumbling block.

Strike reports indicated that the national situation was gradually growing more serious. Disorders have apparently subsided.

Plan To Revise Transportation Act

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Hearings will be held soon by the senate interstate commerce committee to initiate revision of the transportation act and deal with problems developed by the present strike, Chairman Cummins stated today.

The first effort of congress, Senator Cummins said, probably would be to amend the law so as to guarantee a fair living wage to railroad workers. Later, but probably not during the present strike, he said, an effort would be made to provide penalties for violation of orders of the Railway Labor Board.

Senator Cummins said the committee hearings, which will be designed to secure all possible aid in drafting a new formula on railroad wages, would begin soon, but not so as to interfere with the present strike negotiations. The committee chairman did not believe it possible that the amendatory legislation could be disposed of soon enough to be a factor in the present strike, his thought being that corrective legislation would prevent future trouble.

"The men undoubtedly are entitled to a guarantee of a living wage. Inasmuch as the transportation act attempts to define wage standards," said Senator Cummins. "I do not mean a nation-wide, standardized wage, but the law should be so amended as to guarantee a living wage, under a better formula of law than in the present transportation act, which will be capable of better administration by the railway labor board."

May Call Strike Over Grable's Head

NEW YORK, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Prediction that E. F. Grable, president of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Railway Shop Laborers, would issue a strike order to the 400,000 men of his union "at any hour," was made today by William Parker, leader of the New York Central maintenance of way men, and president of the union's association of eastern chairmen.

The New York Central men, he declared, are "up in arms" against Grable's action in holding off on the strike for which they had voted "overwhelmingly." Pressure is brought to bear upon Grable by chairmen in all parts of the country, who in turn are but relaying protests of the men, Parker said. If Grable persisted in his refusal to order a strike, the general chairmen undoubtedly "would take things into their own hands," Parker declared.

MUSCLE SHOAL OFFERS ARE TURNED DOWN

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Henry Ford's offer for purchase and lease of the government's projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, was rejected by the senate agriculture committee today by a vote of 9 to 7.

Those voting for rejection were Senators Norris, Page (by proxy), McNary, Keyes, Gooding, Norbeck, Harreld, McKinley, Republicans, and Kendrick, Democrat, Wyoming.

Those voting for a favorable report were Senators Capper and Ladd, Republicans, and Smith, Ransdell, Harrison, Heflin and Caraway, Democrats.

The bill introduced by Chairman Norris calling for operation of the projects by a government owned and controlled corporation also was rejected, the vote being 9 to 5. Voting for rejection were Senators Capper, Keyes, Ladd, Smith, Ransdell, Kendrick, Harrison, Heflin and Caraway, and for acceptance were Norris, McNary, Gooding, Norbeck and McKinley.

Despite the adverse votes, the proposals of Henry Ford and Senator Norris will be presented to the senate for final decision through minority reports, it was explained by Chairman Norris.

FORDNEY GIVES HIS VIEWS

ABERDEEN, WASH., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The tariff bill pending in the senate will pass when congress resumes work after the recess and its passage will be followed by the adoption of the soldiers' bonus bill, according to Representative J. W. Fordney, of the house ways and means committee, who is here on business and to visit relatives. The tariff bill will not be greatly modified by the senate, Mr. Fordney predicted. He expressed confidence that President Harding would end the railroad strike in quick fashion. He re-affirmed his intention to retire from congress at the close of the present session, but added that he would have no opposition in his district should he be a candidate.

Distillery Robbed Of 200 Barrels Of Whiskey

YORK, PA., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—According to report made to police headquarters by George A. Negroes Carrying Guns Arrested

Three men giving the names of Anthony Smith, 20, D. R. Whiteker, 20, and William White, all negroes, were arrested on the charge of carrying concealed weapons this morning and when arraigned on that charge before Judge McCall in the Municipal court at 9 o'clock, pleaded guilty and were fined $100 and costs. Whiteker and Smith were arrested at the corner of Eleventh and Union and William White was arrested at Ninth and Waller by Officers Schroeder, Haley and Branham. The weapons carried by the men, with the exception of the one belonging to White were antiquated specimens of firearms but they could be shot and were therefore dangerous. The guns were two thirty two caliber guns and one twenty-two caliber. The men stated that they were employed at the N. and W. and that they needed the guns for protection and that they heard no police protection was to be had. Judge McCall stated that police protection was impartial and they would treat both parties in the strike fairly. Judge McCall also stated that the men were only adding danger when they toted weapons and that he would not have any men carrying guns at such a critical time in the local strike.

Rotarians Ask School Board To Care For Crippled Children; Bids Opened

Another discussion of the possibility of Portsmouth having a school for crippled children was held last night at the regular meeting of the Board of Education when the subject was brought before the members by James C. Yeley, representing the Rotary Club of Portsmouth.

He addressed the Board urging the members to establish a class for crippled children who are unable to attend the regular schools. He brought before the Board the importance of giving the crippled child a chance to obtain the same education as others so that he or she would be prepared to cope with life in later years.

The law covering the establishment of such classes or schools was reviewed by the Board at some length at the close of which the members said the school census would be consulted to see how many crippled children there are in the city who would be able to attend such a school or class.

Mr. Yeley pledged the aid of the Rotary Club, stating that the club will be glad to cooperate with the board in the establishment of the class, and reviewing the work of the club in conducting clinics for crippled children last spring, at which time over 80 children were examined by experts.

Bids from the City Coal Company and the Dunn Coal Company were received on 450 tons of smokeless or Pocahontas coal and 1000 tons of run of mine. They will be considered until next week when a special meeting will be held and the contract let. At this meeting Artichect Pretzinger of Dayton will submit bids on new lockers to be installed in the addition to the high school.

The F. C. Duehler Company was awarded a contract to furnish 26 teachers' desks for the schools at their bid of $22.58 per desk.

The resignation of Miss Helen C. Beltz, teacher in the Portsmouth High School was accepted. Miss Beltz was forced by illness to return to her home at Marietta, Ohio, before the last school term had expired, but it was thought that she would be able to teach next year.

The application of Frank Parker for the position of janitor at the Eleventh Street School building, a position until recently filled by Granville Johnson, was received and filed and referred to the building and repairs committee and the superintendent.

Several bills for transportation and board for pupils who live a long distance from school were submitted, those of Arch Bussy for $353; Oscar Barklow for $76; and Fred H. Miller for $179 were referred to the city for advice as to the legality of payment.

SECURE TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

The Chillicothe Gazette Friday said:

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Cincinnati on Thursday secured a temporary injunction in the United States district court against the labor unions composing the Federated shop crafts, their international and local officers and members to prevent interference with the services of the railroad. Judge John Weld Peck granted the injunction, restraining all of the defendants from the lowest to the highest in any way intimidating the road or its employes.

In the bill of complaint filed by the railroad a number of assaults and allegations of attempted interference are alleged and the alleged assault on Sherman ordner in this city is cited as one of the instances. Illegal picketing in Ivorydale yards, Dayton, Hamilton, Chillicothe, Newark and other places are alleged.

Police Unable To Find Missing Couple

A search of the city and surrounding towns during the past two weeks has so far failed to bring up any traces of a married man and a fourteen year old girl who are alleged to have run away together.

The couple were last seen by the watchman at a lumber yard as they were getting into a machine about eight o'clock on the night of June 28.

The police said today that a determined effort was being made to locate the couple.

BALLOTS MAILED TO LOCAL TOURISTS

In the number of absent voters' ballots mailed out Friday by Chief Clerk J. F. The association has been formed for the interest of the players. The organization will be back of the plans for city wide tennis tournaments, inter-city tournaments and other plans that work for the betterment of the game.

Commencement At Bigelow Sunday Night

The Daily Vacation Bible School of the Bigelow church will close its summer session with the commencement exercises at the church Sunday evening, July 16 at 7:30. At that service the children will recite the Bible verses which they have learned and sing the songs which they have committeed. Some of the articles made by the children of the various groups will be on display at both the morning and evening services.

The school has been delightfully entertained and instructed by the stories of Dr. C. E. Chandler, Miss Caroline Makoy, and Mr. Orin Rickey. Vocal solos by the Misses Ruth Chandler and Sarah Louise Walker were much appreciated by the pupils and teachers. The xylophone solos given by Miss Mary Louise Selby were enjoyed greatly. Mrs. Metzler gave several readings which all thoroughly enjoyed. Clay Hoobler delighted the school with a number of solos on the violin.

A new plan which proved to be very successful was tried in the operation of the school this year. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were devoted to actual school work and Thursday, Friday and Saturday were given over to swimming classes, hikes and picnics.

Jewelry Store Window Shattered

Hurling brick through a plate glass window in the front of the Southern Loan company's store at 720 Chillicothe street, thieves again made away with merchandise from the store, this time taken from the front window.

The robbery occurred last night, sometime after midnight, when Joseph P. Braffman, proprietor of the store, had retired. Clocks, cuff buttons, hair clippers, harps and about 75 emblem buttons were among the articles taken.

Mr. Braffman estimates his loss at $40 and not covered by insurance as the robbery occurred after midnight, after which his policy with the Jewelers' Security Alliance fails to cover.

Two harps and a few pieces of jewelry were found in the alley between Seventh and Eighth streets, which the robbers threw away in their get away. The fact that only a few of the less valuable articles in the window were taken has led the police to believe it to be the work of amateurs.

Harper And Ruel Have Lowest Bid

Harper and Ruel, local paving contractors are waiting on official word that they have been awarded the contract to pave the Gallia pike from Franklin Furnace to the Lawrence county line. "We submitted the lowest bid and will be awarded both sections of the paving, which inclues a six mile strip," Mr. Ruel of the firm said Saturday. "Just as soon as we receive word to go ahead with the work it will be started."

Among the bids were several other local ones and one by Mahle Bros., of Ironton.

Street Improvement Bonds To Be Re-Sold Will Bring Larger Premium To The City

At a meeting attended by Mayor William Gableman, City Solicitor Sherrard Johnson, Attorney Edgar Millar and a representative of the firm of the Guarantee Title and Trust Company, Cincinnati and held at the Central National bank Friday afternoon, the status of the $196,000 street improvement bond sale was decided. The Cincinnati firm first rejected the bids, then wanted them, and then the City refused to allow the firm to have them, the City coming out the victor in the argument. The representative of the Cincinnati firm returned home declaring that his firm was through with the proposed deal. This leaves the City free to readvertise the bonds for sale and it is thought that a much larger premium will be offered this time. The Cincinnati firm offered a little more than $8,000 premium.—It is now thought that from $2,500 to $3,000 more will be received in premium as the bond market is much better at this time than when they were first offered for sale early this year.

The bonds were issued for a period of twenty years, the legislation being passed prior to January 1st, 1922.

The Griswold Act took effect January 1 this year, which provides that street improvement bonds must be sold for not longer than a ten year period. After the Cincinnati bonding firm had sent in the best bid, which was conditional, they questioned the legality of the bonds on account of the Griswold law. The City instituted a friendly suit in the Supreme Court which held the bonds valid as legislation for the bonds was started before January 1st.

In the meantime the bond market has improved considerably and after the Supreme Court decision the bonding firm changed its mind about the bonds and wanted them delivered, at the premium they offered. The check they had deposited with the City Auditor at the time the bid was made, showing they were acting in good faith, was held by the City Auditor. As soon as the Supreme Court rendered its decision a local job printing shop was worked day and night in order to get the bonds printed so they could be delivered. In the meantime Mayor William Gableman and others interested in the city's finances, studied over the matter and found that the city did not have to let the Cincinnati firm have the bonds as they had made a conditional bid and had rejected the bonds once. The Cincinnati firm sent their attorney here for the bonds, but his demands were refused. Friday a member of the firm came for the bonds and demanded that the city turn them over to him. His demands were also refused and when he handed a premium check over for the bonds it was handed back to him. He threatened to bring suit to get the bonds, but was plainly told such action would not gain him the bonds. He then demanded his "good faith" check and it was given to him, and he departed. The bonds will be readvertised for sale within a few days.

Attorney Hawke Suspended From Practice Of Law In Ohio

CINCINNATI, O., July 15—Attorney George S. Hawk against whom charges of unprofessional conduct were heard before judges of the local bar several days ago, was today suspended from the practice of law in Ohio.

The charges were brought in connection with Attorney Hawke securing city permits for operating pool rooms by Greek aliens, who under a city ordinance are prohibited from conducting such places, by the incorporation of a company known as the Lincoln Pool Room Company.

The written decision does not contain the word "disbarment" and leaves the way open for the re-instatement of Hawke, it is said by attorneys. The court, however, held that the use of the word "disbarment" which was used orally in handing down the decision, means "disbarment with the right of reinstatement and follows the language of the supreme court of Ohio in the famous Thatche rcase."

Attorneys representing Hawke announced an immediate appeal to the court of appeals.

No Developments In Strike

Paying off the N. & W. strikers this afternoon was the only thing doing in the local strike situation. The shopmen and clerks claim their ranks are remaining intact. The clerks also claim that several have joined them since yesterday morning. The striking clerks expected some of the clerks at the freight house to join them last night, but today the same full force of clerks was reported working at the freight house.

Scioto And Lawrence Counties In Same Bankruptcy District

Local Referee in Bankruptcy Attorney Mark A. Crawford received word Saturday from B. E. Dilley, clerk of the U. S. Court in Cincinnati, that Scioto and Lawrence counties had been merged as one bankruptcy district and that the new referee for both counties would be P. C. Booth of Ironton. The appointment was made by Judge John Weld Peck of Cincinnati.

Mr. Crawford's term would have expired this year. During his sixteen years as referee here he failed to have a single case reversed.

A. I. U. Plans For A Picnic

A well attended meeting of the American Insurance Union was held last night when six applications were favorably balloted upon. Plans were discussed for a lodge picnic and outing to be held late this month. A short program of entertainment followed the business session. The program included a song "The Shiek" by Nellie Martin, a Cinderella dance by Charlotte Gilmore, an Oriental dance by Ethel Wells and a song "Peggy O'Neil" by all three of the young ladies.

Each member present last night was given a good sized picture of National President John J. Lentz of Columbus who is a candidate for U. S. Senator this year. He is expected to visit here about July 28.

SCENE FROM "THE PRODIGAL JUDGE"

The three most interesting characters in "The Prodigal Judge" are Judge Slocum Price-Tuberville, played by Maclyn Arbuckle; Solomon Mahaffy, by Ernest Torrence, and Hannibal, by Charles Eaton. Jean Paige has the role of Betty Malroy, who helps the judge to reclaim himself.

The Most Lovable Character of Fiction Comes To Live In Motion Pictures At The Eastland Theatre Next Week In A Film That Excels All Others—Vaughan Kester's World Famous Novel "The Prodigal Judge."

"The Prodigal Judge," Vitagraph's spectacular special production of the old south in 1835, which will be shown at Eastland Theater on Monday was made by an all-star cast under direction of Edward Jose.

Many of the scenes were taken in Virginia and parts of the south where the story is laid. Every effort has been made to reproduce the foliage and surroundings described by Vaughan Kester in his world-famous novel of the same name upon which this picture is based.

It has been built upon a solid foundation—a real story. The book took the country by storm. It abounds in quaint, picturesque and lovable characters who appeal both to the heart and the sense of humor. Unlike many literary successes, "The Prodigal Judge" easily is adapted to visualization on the screen. The people in it who hate and do things. They are men and women who weep and laugh, who hate and do things. They are many big scenes and opportunities galore for powerful acting. A pretty love story is connected with the picture, and, what is more rare, a wonderful friendship between two men, the Judge and Solomon Mahaffy, which provides not only some of the humor, but tender scenes that pull at the heart-strings.

The role of the Judge is portrayed by Maclyn Arbuckle, and that of Mahaffy is in the hands of Ernest Torrence. The boy is played by Charles Eaton, and Jean Paige, who made such a hit in "Black Beauty," has the leading feminine role.

Agricultural Notes

EDITORIAL NOTE—The Times has arranged for an agricultural department in each issue of The Saturday Times. The articles will be written by an expert and we unhesitatingly advise their careful reading. They may be of great profit to you.

Last summer spray due weeks after the petals fall, and aimed particularly at control of the codling moth.

This spray usually come in the southern counties about July 1st; toward the middle of July for central counties; and as late as July 20th in the north of the state. The recommended formula is Bordeaux mixture 3-5-50, plus arsenate of lead, a pound of powder or two pounds of paste to 50 gallons of spray.

Besides the codling moth, it takes care of black rot, bitter rot and blotch.

Jump Potato Yield 30 Bushels to Acre State Average is Only 60 bushels; Spraying Found to Effect Great Increase.

The average yield of potatoes in Ohio is only about 60 bushels to the acre. By following a new practice, tried out for the first time on a number of Ohio farms last summer, yield increases around 30 bushels to the acre have been obtained.

Fifty farms in eight counties last summer agreed to work with extension specialists of the Ohio State University in spraying potatoes with Bordeaux mixture, this to kill the leafhoppers that cause hopperburn, and kill the foliage by potato-digging time.

Average yield increase to the acre on the 200 acres of potatoes where this treatment was thus demonstrated was 34 bushels. Farmers who sprayed four times got increases averaging 44 bushels to the acre.

Hopperburn was especially bad last year, say the scientists, and they do not guarantee precisely the same increases this year, but they believe that such spraying, if done so as to wet the underside of the potato leaves will always get increases sufficient to pay many times over for the labor involved.

Fred Mootz of Pine Creek was one of the men who cooperated in potato spraying work last year for the control of hopperburn. His increase in spite of a severe drought was 18 bushels per acres. As a result of his experience as well as the other cooperators in the state twenty farmers are spraying their potatoes for the control of hopperburn in this county this year in cooperation with the local Farm Bureau. In addition to this more than twelve men are conducting tests in different methods of Potato fertilization. It is hoped by controlling the hopperburn and by better methods of fertilization that the potato yield of Scioto county will be very materially increased within the next few years. Accurate checks will be made on all of this work this fall and reports given out to everyone interested.

Labor vs Dollars

If you could store up some of the labor as you now perform it and could draw on it when you had grown old and unable to work—would you do it? Every dollar in the pay envelope represents a dollar's worth of labor—don't ever lose sight of that.

RAILROAD SITUATION

To Use Motor Trucks To Transport Mails

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.(By the Associated Press)—Inauguration of the use of motor trucks to transport the mails due to the inability of railroads to move mail matter on account of the shopmen's strike, was announced today by Postmaster General Work, who said it had been determined to use motor transportation between Bedford and Switz City, Indiana, between which two points all mail trains had been annulled.

Reports to the postoffice department today said that at Toledo, Ohio, all depot employes were reported on strike, and the department was asked to supply additional mail clerks to handle the mails.

Postal Inspector Harris at Atlanta notified the department that Trains 15 and 16 operating between Savannah and Montgomery and Trains 17 and 18 running between Columbus and Albany would be discontinued today to conserve power, but that trains in general throughout the division in that section of the country were operating without interference.

Postal Inspector Cisler at St. Louis advised the department that federal troops had been sent to Poplar Bluffs, Missouri, "not as a result of rioting, but in anticipation of trouble caused by moving shops from Hoxie, Ark., to that point."

SEVERAL HUNDRED GO ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Several hundred stationary firemen and oilers in the New York district, failed to report for work today, according to union officials, though the "strike sanction" mentioned Monday as the time for the walk-out. Scores of the firemen and oilers had already gone out, as had many of the maintenance men, in sympathy with the shop crafts workers, leaders said.

There appeared to be no unusual delays in departing trains today. The Erie Railroad claimed better service than it had for several days, but officials were frankly worried over the coal situation.

Leaders of the shopmen said they were not interested in the preparations of the government to protect the mails.

HOCKING VALLEY WORKERS QUIT

COLUMBUS, O., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—July 15.—Stationary engineers, firemen and oilers of the Hocking Valley Railroad here walked out today. Members of the organizations here are reported to be in readiness to quit when the last shift goes off duty tonight.

Maintenance Chief And Harding Confer

WASHINGTON, July 15—E. F. Grable, chief of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Railway Shop Laborers, spent two hours and a half in conference today with President Harding, but declined to discuss the conference on leaving the White House. It was indicated that there would be a White House statement on the conference.

The White House statement later issued said that Mr. Grable and Fred L. Feick, legislative representative of the union, who also participated in the discussions, both expressed a hope for an early settlement and declared that "proper conferences would end in such a settlement." The president, it was stated, assured his two visitors that "every possible conference was being sought."

President Harding, according to the statement, took the position during the conference that any inadequacy in the law must be corrected by congress and cannot be affected by interrupting railway operation. Mr. Harding also declared that non-compliance with orders of the railroad board on the part of the railways had not been brought to his attention until the strike was declared.

Missouri, Kansas And Texas Clerks Sign Pact

ST. LOUIS, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The Missouri, Kansas and Texas today signed a wage agreement with its 2,700 clerks. Details of the agreement were not made public, but it was said the average wage would be 55 cents an hour. The contract can be ended on 30 days' notice, it was added.

Wilted Branch For Peace Dove

CHICAGO, July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The peace dove today bore a somewhat wilted olive branch, which Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States Railroad Labor Board, hopefully tried to freshen.

Mr. Hooper announced that he had encountered "fundamental" difficulties in his efforts to bring about peace but with more parleys in prospect the situation gave promise of a new approach to a settlement, or at least to negotiations, out of which some agreement might be reached to meet on common ground.

Rail heads and strike leaders moved close enough together to meet in separate rooms at the same hotel. Neither side, however, made enough concession to provide substantial optimism.

Fight "Red Flag" Element

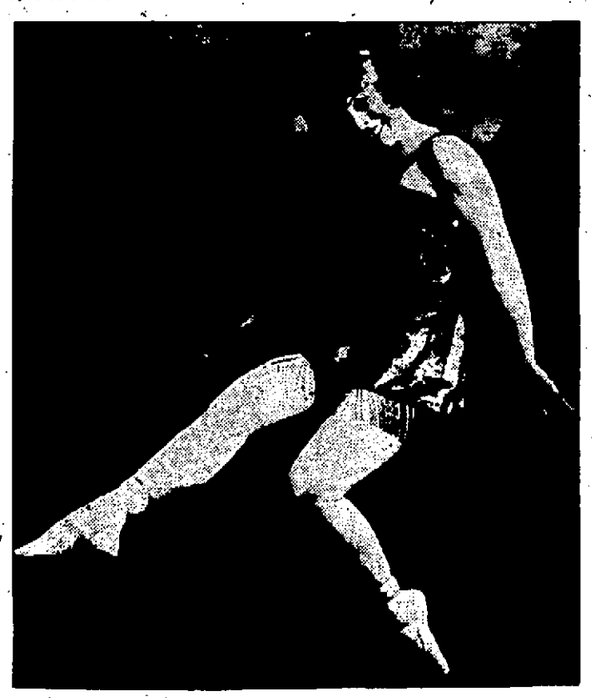

E. F. Grable, president of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Railroad Shop Laborers, left Chicago for Washington, with the avowed intention of fighting every move of the "red flag" element in the ranks. He declared that no strike action by maintenance men would be sanctioned by him unless the men are "coerced" into it by railroads attempting to force maintenance men to perform duties usually done by shopmen now on strike. Mr. Grable went to Washington to confer with President Harding on the threatened walk-out by common labor on the roads.

Disorders In South

Disorders in connection with the strike were largely confined to the south and southwest, Colonel C. S. Lincoln, assistant chief of staff of the eighth corps area, received orders from Washington to investigate the situation at Denison, Texas. At the same time, Governor Neff ordered Adjutant General Barton, of the Texas National Guard, to go to Denison and Tom Hickman, captain of the Texas Rangers, was despatched to the scene. Officials of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad said no strike-breakers would be taken into Denison, and that no attempt would be made to operate the shops there until adequate protection was afforded.

Governor Davis, of Ohio, ordered mobilization of state troops in preparation for any trouble which might arise in connection with the strike.

FAMOUS CIRCUS HERE FRIDAY, JULY 28

No. 8—She's just as much at home way up in the air on a little thin wire as the average woman is on Chillicothe street. She's with the big Hagenbeck-Wallace circus which will be in Portsmouth Friday July 28th.

No longer do the working crews of the circus have to tug and pull at the big top to roll it up for shipping to the next town, at least not on the majestic Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus which will appear here Friday, July 28.

This season the circus has this labor performed by a machine and a "spool," which saves much time and work. The big tent is dropped to the ground after the final performance and the workmen place the various flaps and ends in place. The "spool" is then attached to one side of the tent and rolls the big top onto it, with the result that much time and labor is saved.

This is not the only labor-saving device that the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus carries. No longer do stakes have to be driven by man-power. Stake driving machines are now carried and there is another machine which pulls them up, when ready for the tearing down of the tent.

The circus is carried on three special trains and much of the paraphernalia being placed on 70-foot steel flats. There are more than 1,000 men, women and animals carried on these trains, besides the many billposters, programmers, bannermen, mailers, press agents and others who travel on the advance cars.

Another interesting fact pertaining to the inner workings of the circus is that between 500 and 600 pounds of beef are needed each day to feed the animals. This great amount is separate from the many pounds necessary in preparing the meals of the performers and working crews.

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT

Golden State Six Orchestra at Broadway Beach and Dip Inn Sunday afternoon and evening. Dancing hours 2:30 to 5:30 and 7 to 10.

FEATURES OF YESTERDAY'S BATTLES

NEW YORK, July 15—Urban Shocker, pitching ace of the St. Louis Browns, is no longer a Yankee jinx. He has started four times against the New Yorkers in the last seven games the teams have played and lost them all, the fourth defeat coming when the league leaders bowed to Bob Shawkey's superior box work, 4—0. The Yankees drove Shocker from the box on two successive days in St. Louis and Joe Busch bested the spitball star Tuesday at the Polo grounds.

The victory put the Yankees back within a half game of the pace-setters. Babe Ruth, his slugging proclivities in a slump, beat out a couple of bunts to demonstrate his versatility.

Rogers Hornsby walloped out his twenty-fourth homer during a seven run rally in the seventh that gave the Cardinals a victory over the Phillies 9—5 and put them within two and a half games of the Giants, who lost their second straight to Chicago. Hornsby's clout tied Cravath's modern National league home run record made with the Phillies in 1915 and put him within three homers of Ed Williamson's high mark, 27, made in 1884.

Miller's two homers and Cheeves' relief pitching featured the Cubs' triumph over McGraw's men, 8—4.

Rixey shut out Brooklyn, 3—0, giving the Reds three out of four and dealing the Dodgers their eighth setback in nine games in the west, while Wilbur Cooper twirled the Pirates to a 6—1 victory over Boston.

Cleveland rallied in the eighth and ninth to win its fourth straight from the Red Sox and Washington scored five runs in the first, enough to beat Chicago 7—3.

28 REGISTER; OFFICES OPEN TONIGHT

Twenty-eight electors, ten of them women, registered at the Board of Elections on the first registration day for the August primary election yesterday.

The offices of the board will be open again today for registration from 9 till 1; 2 until 5; and 6 until 8.

Other registration days as announced by the Board are July 20 and 21 and August 3, 4, and 5.

To Motorize Mail Service

Postal authorities took steps to transport mail by commercial air craft, power boats and motor cars in case rail service becomes hampered to the point that the mails are seriously threatened.

Samuel Gompers at Washington, declared the American Federation of Labor stands squarely behind the striking shopmen.

Congressman Carl Riddick, at Livingston, Montana, declared to newspaper men that congress ultimately will intervene in the rail strike.

Members of the American Federation of Railroad Workers at Cleveland, voted to join the shopmen's strike next Monday, according to officials of the union. The organization it was said, has no connection with the American Federation of Labor, but has a membership of 90,000.

Form New Union

Strike-breakers employed in the Missouri-Pacific shops at Wichita, Kansas, notified President Harding and the railroad labor board that the workmen had formed a new union, and asked for recognition by the government.

Dock operators at Cleveland predicted a tie-up of some of the Great Lacks shipping within the next few days because of the rail strike and a shortage of coal for lake steamers.

May Draft Railroad Workers

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Administration officials today still were hopeful that a solution to the shopmen's strike problem would be found before any situation arose which might force drastic action by the government.

With evidences accumulating that the administration intends to utilize every force at the government's command to insure maintenance of necessary interstate commerce, the rail strike is understood to have been discussed at length at yesterday's meeting of the cabinet. While government operation of the carriers was understood to be viewed as in no way a probability at this stage, it was said to have been discussed on a hypothetical basis and President Harding was said to hold the view that should this course become necessary it would not abridge the liberty of railroad workers to be drafted for service in positions in which they have had experience.

No Change In Situation

CINCINNATI, O., July 15.—(By the Associated Press) — Virtually there was no change in the local strike situation during last night, although one Southern railway passenger train due in Cincinnati from New Orleans at 9:30 a. m., did not arrive until 8:45 p. m. The delay, however, was said to be on account of the derailment of 14 freight cars in Tennessee.

This morning announcement is made by John A. Morris, chairman of the operating committee, which handles the interchange between all railways entering Cincinnati, showing that compared with normal times before the nation-wide coal strike, there is passing through here daily about 90 per cent of the coal that was previously handled.

"We of the operating committee admit there has been a slow-up, but no tie-up," Mr. Morris said.

Officials of all lines assert that freight movement is not being seriously delayed. Sunday excursions were annulled by the Southern railroad, thus making more engines available for regular passenger service, it was said.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—Bernard Mallon, Jr., of the Southern R. R., was held up by masked men, taken on an automobile trip, beaten and slightly stabbed.

Going To Vanceburg

The North Moreland Stars play in Vanceburg Sunday afternoon. The players will leave at nine o'clock in machines for Vanceburg. The N. M. Stars will use the following lineup: C. Combs, p; Vicars, c; J. Crum 1st; L. Rhoden 3rd; V. Combs 2nd; Sizemore ss; T. Rhoden lf; C. Rhoden cf; and A. Crum rf.

Go To It, Redlegs!

If knocking them off at the rate of seven out of nine isn't going at a championship clip, there isn't any such thing as a championship clip. And that is the very thing the Redlegs are doing, for in the last nine games played, they have won seven. They took four out of five in their series with Philadelphia and three out of four from Brooklyn.

A splendid reception was given at the church last night for the pastor Rev. J. E. Wood, successor to Rev. W. H. H. Renfro, who comes from the St. Paul M. E. church, Paris, Ky. and for Rev. T. L. Ferguson, formerly pastor of Mt. Zion M. E. church, Cincinnati, Ohio, who succeeds Rev. H. A. Foreman as District Superintendent. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the pastors, N. V. Brown, B. R. Reed and J. H. Smith, representing respectively Allen Chapel, A. M. E., Pleasant Green Baptist and Beulah Baptist congregations. Rev. B. W. Jackson spoke words of welcome for the local congregation. There were also a paper from Mr. Haley and musical numbers interspersing the program. Each number and address was on a fine order and the pastor and Superintendent responded with timely remarks. After the program all were served to refreshments. Thanks to the committees and friends who made possible such a program and such a welcome.

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH
William C. Millikan, Pastor.

The Sunday school will meet at 9:00 a. m. and will study the lesson "Enforcing the Judgement Against Strong Drink." This question will be largely dealt with in the election this fall by the selection of members of Congress. The Volstead act must be sustained.

At the morning worship 10:15 a. m., the pastor will preach upon "Where is Your Main Reliance." The special music will be an anthem, "I Will Love Thee, O Lord," by Morrison, and a solo, "Thy Will Be Done," by Mrs. Oscar Micklethwaite.

At the evening service the pastor will preach upon "A Discouraged Prophet." The special music will be "A Song of Trust," by Miss Beatrice Latham.

The members of Trinity congregation are urged to support the summer Chautauqua, which commences on Tuesday of this week, by buying the tickets. It would seem that many would be willing to neglect this fine week of entertainments, lectures and musicals, though most communities of this size regard them as most desirable occasions. Your investigation of the nature and quality of the program is invited.

Morning worship at 9:15 a. m., followed by Sunday school session at 10:15 a. m.

Sermon topic, "Christ's Complaint Over Christianity."

The Sunday school lesson for the Adult classes is based on "The Handwriting on the Wall." A critical and historical view will be taken concerning the events in the lesson followed by fitting applications that corrupt living, destroys both personal and national life.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services.

All Saints Church School

The confirmed members of All Saints' Church School are expected to make their Communion at the 10:30 service tomorrow.

This service will be a plain celebration of the Holy Communion with the singing of hymns.

The service will be over in one hour.

Pupils attending are asked to register their names before leaving the church.

SERVICES ON MABERT ROAD

The lectures that are being held on Mabert Road by Mr. N. D. Edwards each Sunday night are well attended, and much interest is shown. Last Sunday night the topic was "The Three Worlds," next will be presented the Scriptural evidence "That Millions Now Living Will Never Die." Mr. Edwards claims that there are 450 lines of evidence proving this proposition. These services will be held indefinitely and are free to the public.

WILL ADDRESS LOCAL COLORED PEOPLE

C. J. Jackson of Cincinnati will address the colored people of Portsmouth at the Lincoln theatre Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The first great judgment (trial and sentence) was at the beginning, in Eden, when the whole human race, as represented in its head, Adam, stood on trial before God. The results of that trial was the verdict guilty, disobedient, unworthy of life; and the penalty inflicted was death —"Dying thou shalt die." (Gen. 2:17, margin.) And so "In Adam all die." That trial time in Eden was the world's first judgment day, and the decision of the Judge (Jehovah) has ever since been enforced. While the Scriptures speak of a great Judgment on trial day yet future, and show that the masses of mankind are to have their complete trial and final sentence in that day, they also teach that there have been other judgment days, during which certain elect classes have been on trial.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT FIRST CHURCH

Three special musical numbers are placed on the program for the morning service at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow: "Whispering Hope" duet by Mrs. Roy C. Lynn and Mrs. Ernest Tompkins of Philadelphia; "Open the Gates of the Temple," a solo by Mrs. Ruth Chandler Collins, and an anthem, "Jesus Calls Us," by the church quartette. Rev. H. G. Gleiser father of the pastor, will preach.

Report Unfounded

The Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions today announced through the Rev. Hugh J. Evans, chairman of the missions committee of Portsmouth Presbytery, that a dispatch printed in American newspapers July 8 reporting the death of Dr. William James Wanless, famous Presbyterian surgeon missionary in India, was untrue. Cable advices just received by the Foreign Board state that Dr. Wanless is perfectly well.

Rev. Howerton Better

Word was received yesterday from Rev. G. M. Howerton, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, that he is getting along fine at the Kings Daughters hospital in Ashland where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. He wrote that he hopes to resume his work here the first Sunday in August.

D. V. B. S. Closes

The Hilltop Daily Vacation Bible School closed its work yesterday morning with an interesting demonstration, to which the parents and friends of the children were invited. The devotional and recreational program of the morning proved quite entertaining and pleasing, and showed that the children had been greatly benefitted by the work of these past few weeks. The parents expressed themselves very appreciatingly, concerning the work that had been done. The corps of teachers and assistants rendered splendid service in aiding the pastor, Rev. Severinghaus, and the Parish Worker, Miss Rue Kirk. All served without pay, and yet felt amply repaid by seeing what had been accomplished and realizing that a good work had been done. The average attendance of the Hilltop school was 109, the school being made up of the children representing fourteen different churches and Sunday Schools of the city. The total enrollment of this school was 164, of whom 91 were members of the Franklin Ave. school, and 73 from the other Sunday Schools of the city.

At the close of the morning exercises, the children were treated to ice cream, and all went to their homes, sorry that the school had closed.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

To escape hanging on the charge of sedition,

ANDRE-LOUIS MOREAU flees from his native town of Gavrillac and conceals his identity by joining a band of strolling players in which he makes a great success in the part of SCARAMOUCHE.

His flight has caused him to delay revenge on the great and powerful MARQUIS DE LA TOUR D'AZYR, who tricked Andre-Louis' dearest friend,

PHILIPPE DE VILMORIN, into a duel and then killed him because he feared the idealist's "dangerous gift of eloquence."

Over the dead body of his friend, Andre-Louis swore to carry on the work of reforming the lot of the down-trodden peasants.

Scaramouche, as he is now called, falls in love with

CLIMENE, daughter of

MONSIEUR BINET, the owner of the troupe. They become engaged and Andre-Louis has forgotten

ALINE DE KERCADIOU, the friend of his childhood, who horrified him by listening to the suit of the Marquis. While walking with Climene, he unexpectedly meets Aline.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

M. de La Tour d'Azyr stood there by the table very erect and dignified, ready to perish as he lived—without fear and without deception.

Andre-Louis came slowly forward until he reached the table on the other side and then at last the muscles of his set face relaxed, and he laughed.

"You laugh?" said M. de La Tour d'Azyr, frowning, offended.

"You have surprised me into it. I give you three minutes, monsieur, in which to leave this house, and to take your own measures for your safety."

"Wait! Listen!" Madame was panting. She flung away from Andre-Louis, as if moved by some premonition of what was coming. "Gervais! This is horrible!"

"Horrible, perhaps, but inevitable. I am a man in despair, the fugitive of a lost cause. That man holds the keys of escape. Besides, between him and me there is a reckoning to be paid."

His hand came from beneath his coat, and it came armed with a pistol.

Mme. de Plougastel screamed, and flung herself upon him. On her knees now, she clung to his arm with all her strength and might.

Vainly he sought to shake himself free of that desperate clutch.

But Andre-Louis had taken advantage of that moment of M. de La Tour d'Azyr's impotence to draw a pistol in his turn. "Stand away, madame."

Far from obeying that imperious command, Mme. de Plougastel rose to her feet to cover the Marquis with her body. But she still clung to his arm, clung to it with unsuspected strength that continued to prevent him from attempting to use the pistol.

"He is your father, Andre! Gervais, he is your son—our son! The letter there . . . on the table . . . O my God!" And she slipped nervously to the ground, and crouched there sobbing at the feet of M. de La Tour d'Azyr.

CHAPTER XIII

ACROSS the body of that convulsively sobbing woman, the mother of the one and the mistress of the other, the eyes of those mortal enemies met, invested with a startled, appalled interest that admitted of no words.

M. de La Tour d'Azyr was the first to stir. Into his bewildered mind came the memory of something that Mme. de Plougastel had said of a letter that was on the table. He came forward, unhindered. He walked unsteadily past this new-found son of his, and took up the sheet that lay beside the candle-branch. A long moment he stood reading it, none heeding him.

M. de La Tour d'Azyr read the letter slowly through. Then very quietly he replaced it. Then he stepped back to Mme. de Plougastel's side and stooped to raise her.

"Why was I never told? Why did you tell me that this child had died a few days after birth?"

"I was afraid. I . . . I thought it better so—that nobody, nobody, not even you, should know. There was Plougastel; there was my family."

Through the windows open to the garden came from the distance the faint throbbing of a drum to remind them of what was happening around them. At last Andre-Louis began to speak, his voice level and unutterably cold.

"M. de La Tour d'Azyr," he said. "I trust that you'll agree that this disclosure alters nothing since it effaces nothing of all that lies between us. And yet . . . Oh, but what can it avail to talk! Here, monsieur, take this safe-conduct which is made out for Mme. de Plougastel's footman, and with it make your escape as best you can. In return I will beg of you the favor never to allow me to see you or hear of you again."

The Marquis rose slowly to his feet again. He came slowly forward, his smouldering eyes scanning his son's face.

"You are hard," he said grimly. "But I recognize the hardness. It derives from the blood you bear."

"Spare me that," said Andre-Louis.

M. de La Tour considered him gravely, sadly, in silence for a moment.

He paused before uttering the name, paused as if hesitating how to speak of him.

"And in those two years I have deceived myself as to the motive that was spurring me. That even had he not killed Philippe de Vilmorin, things would still have been the same."

"But why, Andre?"

He stood still and looked at her. "Because he sought you, Aline.

"I fought him—a rat fighting a lion—fought him relentlessly until I saw that love had come to take in your heart the place of ambition. Then I desisted."

"Until you saw that love had taken the place of ambition!" Tears had been gathering in her eyes whilst he was speaking. Now amazement eliminated her emotion. "But when did you see that? When?

"Surely, Aline, that morning when you came to beg me not to keep my engagement with him in the Bois, you were moved by concern for him?"

"For him! It was concern for you," she cried, without thinking what she said.

He saw light, dancing, blinding, and it scared him. "And that was why you fainted?" he asked, incredulously.

She looked at him without answering. As she began to realize how much she had been swept into saying by her eagerness to make him realize his error, a sudden fear came creeping into her eyes.

He held out both hand to her. "Aline! Aline!" His voice broke on the name.

HOLDING HANDS AND STARING EACH AT THE OTHER.

He turned to Mme. de Plougastel. "Goodby, Therese!" His voice broke. He had reached the end of his iron self-control.

He held her face between his hands an instant; then very gently kissed her and put her from him. Standing erect, and outwardly calm again, he looked across at Andre-Louis who was proffering him a sheet of paper.

"It is the safe conduct. Take it, monsieur. It is my first and last gift to you, and certainly the last gift I should ever have thought of making you—the gift of life. In a sense it makes us quits. The irony, sir, is not mine, but Fate's. Take it monsieur, and go in peace."

M. de La Tour d'Azyr took it. His eyes looked hungrily into the lean face confronting him, so sternly set. He thrust the paper in his bosom, and then abruptly, convulsively, held out his hand. His son's eyes asked a question.

"Let there be peace between us, in God's name," said the Marquis thickly.

Fly stirred at last in Andre-Louis. Some of the sternness left his face. He sighed. "Goodby, monsieur," he said.

He loosed his son's hand and stepped back. They bowed formally to each other. And then M. de La Tour d'Azyr bowed to Mlle. de Kercadiou in utter silence, a bow that contained something of utter renunciation, of finality.

That done he turned and walked stiffly out of the room, and so out of all their lives. Months later they were to hear of him in the service of the Emperor of Austria.

CHAPTER XIV

ANDRE-LOUIS took the air next morning on the terrace at Meudon. The hour was very early, and the newly risen sun was transmuting into diamonds the dewdrops that still lingered on the lawn.

To Andre-Louis, sauntering there with hands clasped behind him and head hunched between his shoulders—for life had never been richer in material for reflections—came presently Aline through one of the glass doors from the library.

"Have you decided what you are going to do?" she asked him.

"Oh, something. Consider that in four years I have been lawyer, politician, swordsman, and buffoon—especially the latter. There is always a place in the world for Scaramouche."

"Don't, Andre!" she begged him. "You are insincere, you know."

"Of course I am. Do you expect sincerity in man when hypocrisy is the very keynote of human nature? For two years I have prosecuted by every means in my power . . . M. de La Tour d'Azyr."

M. de Koreadion emerging a moment later from the library window, beheld them holding hands and staring each at the other, bentifically, as if each saw Paradise in the other's face.

THE END

Services To Be Held In Millbrook Casino

The revival meetings being conducted at the New Boston Casino under the leadership of Rev. M. F. Pratt have proven a success, and the remaining few days promise greater results.

Rev. Mr. Pratt is a most fervent evangelist and has been delivering some very important and interesting truths, which are gripping the hearts of his hearers and resulting in the salvation of penitents who have knelt from time to time at the penitent form.

A very enjoyable feature of last night's services was the rendering of several songs by the "Portsmouth Gospel Quartet," who are scheduled to sing again Tuesday, July 18, at the 7:30 p. m. service.

Tomorrow is to be a special day in the revival campaign. The features are as follows:

Sunday Rev. Selbee, who superintends a mission in New Boston, and who has been conducting the open air services in connection with the campaign, will preach at the Casino during the 10:30 a. m. meeting. At the same time the evangelist, Mr. Pratt, will preach at the Franklin Avenue M. E. church, at which service Messrs. Myers and Cornelius will sing.

Sunday, 2:30 p. m. there will be held in the Casino a rescue meeting in which Rev. Mr. Pratt will relate some most touching and interesting incidents gleaned from his several years' experience in slum and rescue work. Rev. Mr. Pratt is at present superintendent of an important Rescue Home, located in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Lila Johnson of Portsmouth will also have a part and Evangelists Myers and Cornelius will sing.

Sunday evening, 7 p. m., there will be an open air service near the Casino followed by the regular evangelistic meeting inside.

These meetings are to continue until Tuesday, July 18.

Undergoes Operation

Mrs. Maud Davis of 1309 Union street underwent an operation in Hempstead hospital Friday.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Miss Dolly Wise—Please tell me through the Times, the present address of "The Shiek" who was at Portsmouth several weeks ago?

E. J.

E. J., The "Shiek" is having all the troubles that he can possibly stand just now. He has been accused of bigamy and what could be worse—for fluttering young feminie hearts? But if your spirit has not wavered you may be able to find him at the Hollywood studios at Hollywood, Cal.

Dear Dolly—Would you please tell me to whom I should write to secure information about Adams county Mineral Springs? Is it close to the railroad and what are the terms?

THANK YOU.

It is three miles from the N. and W. depot but buses are run to the trains especially if you notify the proprietor, J. W. Rogers, who is again in charge of the Mineral Springs Hotel.

Dear Dolly—I am writing you for some information. Can you tell me how many miles it is from Portsmouth to Detroit, Michigan, and how long would it take you to go there? And also tell me what one fare would be from here, there. Please print in tonight's column.

TRAVELING SALESMAN.

By railroad the distance between Portsmouth and Detroit is about 286 miles and one fare is $10.10. It would take about thirteen and a half hours counting "layovers." For exact information inquire at the N. and W. station.

If the man who signs himself "Advice" and who would like to meet a widow of 40 or older will please send me a stamped self-addressed envelope I will furnish him the information he desires.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

Ceremony plays no part in the marriage of the Tongataboo bride and groom.

The father buys his daughter a new frock, packs up as much baked ham, yams and yava root as he feels he can afford and the two start for the home of the groom.

The feast that follows constitutes the wedding ceremony.

Yesterday afternoon between the hours of two and four, the spacious Sowers' home on Lincoln Hill was thrown open to friends of the family, when Mr. and Mrs. John Sowers, a bride and groom of fifty years, received informally in celebration of their Golden Wedding anniversary.

The living room, where Mr. and Mrs. Sowers received the guests, was beautifully decorated in black-eyed Susans and ferns and the same golden color scheme was carried out in the delicious brick ice cream and cake that was passed to the guests by the daughters and granddaughters of the host and hostess. Mrs. Fred Arrigoni, Miss Fern Curry Wheeler, Mrs. Phillip Pfarr, and Miss Carrie Elizabeth Pfarr.

Mrs. Arrigoni's afternoon costume of pale green, was beautiful, while her daughter, Miss Wheeler, was girlish and sweet in pure white.

Mrs. Pfarr wore a dainty lace trimmed white dress while her daughter, Miss Pfarr's dress was lavender organdie, with black velvet ribbons.

The lovely and gracious hostess, Mrs. Sowers, wore a becoming white and lavender dotted swiss and at her belt wor a lovely corsage bouquet of purple petunias, larkspur and maiden hair fern, the gift of a friend.

Many friends called, offering congratulations on their happy life together, of fifty golden years.

Mrs. Sowers was formerly Miss Melissa A. Turner of Slocum Station and was married to John Sowers, July 14, 1872 by Rev. Miranda Searl, pastor of the Baptist church there. They lived at Slocum Station until November 8th, 1881 when they moved to Portsmouth, where they have been prominent and influential citizens, both in social, church and civic life of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Sowers have been blessed with the following children, all living in this vicinity: Mrs. Aurilla Pfarr, Mrs. Annie Jones, Mrs. Bertha Arrigoni, Mrs. Carrie Elizabeth Locke, Thurman F. Sowers, William T. Sowers and Mrs. Myrle Elsie Wheeler.

Of the original wedding guests, seventeen are now living, including, Mrs. Mary Yeley, Lafayette Yeley, Mrs. Emma Brown, Mrs. Caroline Turner, and son, Henry Turner; Mrs. Emaline Turner, Edwin Turner, Mrs. Minnie Lust, of Dayton; Mrs. Mamie Henninger, of Ironton; Mrs. Kate Abele, of Ironton; Mrs. Mellie Multer, Anton Staker, George Smith Henry Smith, Mrs. Ella Fisher, Mrs. Katie Randall, and Adam Sowers of Colorado.

The parlors and living room were comfortably filled during the receiving hours.

Miss Carrie Elizabeth Sowers, the only remaining single daughter, who last evening became the bride of Mr. Fred Locke, of Topeka, Kansas, moved among the guests, making all welcome by her happy and gracious manner. Her afternoon gown was a beautiful creation of white organdie and orange and black dotted swiss.

WHOM SHALL MOLLY MARRY?

"STOP OR I'LL SHOOT!"

BY ZOE BECKLEY

THE very world seemed to crumble as Molly heard Billy order the driver to stop in their race to save—perhaps—Ben Wheeler's life.

"Oh, Billy, Billy—don't fail me-"

Billy dropped back into his seat and waved the chauffeur to go on—"and hurry."

It was Billy who broke the tension.

"Well, what did you expect of me, Molly? Isn't it more than human for me to break my neck trying to save a man who's breaking me?"

"Yes, Billy, it certainly is." Weariness of soul was in her voice.

"I supposed I expected a bit of bigness from someone. I'm so tired of everybody hating everybody."

"And I, being the aggrieved one, must be a better Christian than the man who smites me!"

"Not because you're the aggrieved one, but because you're the more civilized, Billy—the finer and bigger."

The half-spoken reproach ended their personal talk. Billy kept the silence of bitterness. Molly did not feel contrite.

The cab swung into the yards of the Wheeler Works and stopped at the door of the main office just as another taxi rolled off.

"Don's here!" cried Molly, her eyes wide with fright.

Together they hurried toward Ben's private office.

Molly opened the door and stepped in. Billy behind her. Ben Wheeler looked up sharply.

"Ben, has Donald Manning been here?" Molly asked breathlessly.

Ben shook his head. His eyes were cold and puzzled.

"Then see to it—leave word outside that he's not to be admitted. Please, Ben!" She knew her man.

"And why?"

"Because—oh, because he's furious—means to hurt you maybe—"

Ben chuckled in derision.

"What's this, a comic scene? I'd look funny, weight 190, telling my watchman to keep out a lady-like young gentleman for fear he'll hurt me!"

"Weight won't stop a bullet, Wheeler," Billy snapped. "Do as she tells you, you vain fool."

Wheeler whirled toward Billy.

"I suppose you were let in because you were with Molly. Well, you can go now—get out before I—"

"Oh, Ben, stop!" Molly's voice rose to a shriek of desperation. "I hear—"

"It's only I!"

And Molly strangled a cry as Don Manning appeared in the doorway and closed the door behind him. One hand, the right, was in his coat pocket, almost jauntily. With the other he motioned Molly and Billy aside.

Ben stepped toward him, jerking his head doggedly.

"Stop where you are-" cried Don, "unless you want me to shoot."

One of the most delightful weddings of the summer took place at 8 o'clock last evening when Miss Carrie Elizabeth Sowers became the bride of Mr. Fred Carrol Locke of Topeka, Kansas, the wedding taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. John Sowers of 1327 Lincoln street.

The happy couple plighted their troth at a beautiful altar of ferns and gladiolas, over which was suspended a large white wedding bell, from which pink and white streamers were stretched to the center chandelier, transforming the spacious parlors of the Sowers home into a delightful bower of flowers.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Thurman F. Sowers of Columbus.

The groom was attended by Mr. A. K. Wheeler, brother-in-law of the bride, and Miss Carrie Elizabeth Pfarr, niece of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and was charming in pale blue organdie with a bouquet of sweet peas and snap dragons.

The youngest sister of the bride, Mrs. Myrle Elsie Wheeler, was matron of honor and her gown was exquisite, of pink organdie, and she also carried sweet peas and snapdragons.

Dainty little Elnora Wheeler carried the ring and little Miss Glenna Sowers, held the bride's bouquet. Both girls are nieces of the bride and were fairy-like in their ruffled dresses of sheer white organdie.

Little Miss Dorothy Henning, also dressed in white, a cousin of the bride, with Master Clark Sowers, a nephew of the bride, carried the blue and pink ribbons to form an aisle for the bridal party.

Miss Sowers was charming in her lovely bridal costume of white silk with a wedding veil fastened to her hair by orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her flowers were a large shower bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Fern Curry Wheeler, at the piano and Masters Charles Lambert and John Pfarr, with violins, played Mendelssohn's Wedding March, while the wedding party was assembling. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. William Sowers sang "At Dawning," "O, Promise Me," and the "Flower Song."

Messrs. Fred Arrigoni and William Sowers assisted the guests in finding seats.

At eight-thirty additional guests began to arrive for the large reception, tendered this popular couple. Mrs. H. T. Bannon welcomed the guests on their arrival. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. John Sowers, parents of the bride, and the bridal party, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Locke, Mr. and Mrs. A.-K. Wheeler, and Miss Carrie Elizabeth Pfarr.

Mrs. Jessie Kneally was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Vaughn Shiers and Mrs. Phillip Pfarr invited the guests to the dining room, which was beautiful with bouquets of various summer flowers scattered about the room. The round table was daintily arranged and covered with lace cloth.

Mrs. Bertha Arrigoni, assisted by Mrs. C. W. G. Hannah and Misses Gertrude Elliott, Dorothy Thirkettle and Barbara Kramer, served delicious brick cream in pink and blue colors, cake and mints, carrying out the color scheme of the blue and pink wedding.

The large wedding cake, containing a ring, dime and thimble, was made by Mrs. Henry T. Bannon, after an old time recipe that has been in the Bannon family for years and was cut by the bride and distributed to the guests.

The Misses Wilma Emory, Clara Henning, Ruth Hannah and Hilda Jenkins, cousins of Mrs. Locke, presided at the punch bowl.

The newly married couple had on display in the spare room of the home a varied and valuable assortment of wedding gifts.

The bride has been very prominent in church and club work in Portsmouth and will be greatly missed when she leaves for her new home in Topeka, Kansas. The happy couple will visit relatives in the city for a week then will go to the groom's home in Topeka, to reside.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of Franklin Avenue Church will have a meeting and a six o'clock picnic supper at the home of Mrs. J. W. Bickham of Wheelersburg, Tuesday evening.

The hostesses will be Mrs. J. W. Bickham, Mrs. H. C. Williams, Mrs. A. M. Reiser, Misses Louise and Emma Kessinger. All members and friends are cordially invited. Machines will be waiting to take them out.

Miss Clara Meyer of Kline's store is enjoying a two weeks' vacation among friends and relatives in Huntington, W. Va.

Miss Anna Andrews and Carl Winters of Columbus motored down to spend the week-end with Mrs. Anna Andrews of 1306 Summit street.

Mrs. Linton Tells How Helpful Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is at This Period

Denver, Colorado.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for seven years and I cannot tell you the good it has done me. It is good for young and old and I always keep a bottle of it in the house, for I am at that time of life when it calls for Lydia E. Pinkham's help. My husband saw your ad. in the papers and said 'You have taken everything you can think of, now I want you to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound!' So I let him get it, and I soon felt better and he told me 'I want you to take about six bottles.' So I did and I keep house and do all my own work and work out by the day and feel fine now. I tell every one about the Vegetable Compound, for so many of my friends thought I would not get well."—Mrs. R. J. LINTON, 1850 West 33d Avenue, Denver, Colorado.

After reading letters like the above, and we are constantly publishing them, why should any woman hesitate to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she is in need of help? It brings relief where other medicines fail.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

IT was being whispered all over Bright Meadowland. Every one was talking about it, but no one knew who had started it. Some said it was Mike Mole, who had a habit of disappearing into one of his million underground passages the minute he made a remark.

Some said it was the butterfly, but he, too, had gone on a journey.

Some said it was the kingfisher, but he'd gone on a fishing trip to Silver River.

Nancy and Nick heard it and told it to Dr. Snuffles, the fairy doctor, but what was the use? He couldn't do anything because he didn't know where Buddy—

But there! Dearie me! I've not told you yet what they were saying. Everybody was saying to his neighbor, "Buddy Bluebottle can't move. Hasn't moved since seven o'clock this morning."

Well, Dr. Snuffles couldn't help him any, because he didn't know where Buddy was in the first place, and in the second place because he didn't know why Buddy couldn't move.

He'd have asked Buddy's ma and his pa, but he didn't know where they lived either. It was rumored Buddy had no ma and pa, and even whispered that they, too, had been unable to move, just like Buddy, before they left him an orphan.

By and by Sar' Ann Spider passed on her way to school.

"M-m-m-m," she was saying to Flossy Fuzzy-Worm, "I wish school were over. We're going to have something extra good for lunch, but I'm not allowed to tell."

"Ah, ha!" nodded Dr. Snuffles wisely. "Now I know."

He called Nancy and Nick and took his sharp scissors and started off.

There was poor Buddy Bluebottle in Mrs. Spider's web, bound all around with a strong thread. No wonder he couldn't move!

Snip! Snip! went Dr. Snuffles' long scissors.

Buddy was soon free and, after he buzzed his thanks, flew away.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McLain and Betty returned Thursday evening from a twelve day visit with relatives in Pittsburgh. While there Tom saw all the ball games Pittsburgh played including the eighteen inning game with New York.

NEW BOSTON

The commencement exercises of the New Boston Daily Vacation Bible school were held in the Glenwood high school auditorium last evening at 8 o'clock. The attendance was splendid and interest fine. The following program was given:

Song—Onward Christian Soldiers—Congregation.
Prayer and Song—Primary Scholars.
Flag Drill—Junior Girls.
Duo—Dorothy Henry and Thelma Killen.
Memiroy Work Drill—School.
Bible Salute—School.
Drama—The Babyhood of Moses—Primary Girls.
Song—Sunbeam.
Bible History—Rev. Watts.
Drama—Ruth the Gleaner—Older Children.
Song —Star Spangled Banner — School.
Benediction—Rev. Watts.

The following teachers donated their services to the school free of charge and were faithful and earnest in their work. Mr. Keffer took charge of the primary grades while Mrs. Mae Perry, Miss Ruth Dutell and Bertha Russ assisted in Bible story, memory and hand work. Miss Golda O'Neil took charge of the song service and assisted with the Junior boys. Mrs. Mary Hazel Floyd assisted by Miss Ada Freeman had charge of the older Junior Girls in class and hand work, while Mrs. Lawson Sloan assisted by Mrs. Harley Flack had charge of the younger Junior girls. Mrs. Clinton Rose assisted in a general way and had charge of the Intermediate girls' class and hand work. Rev. Allbaugh acted as the principal of the school, gave memory drills in the life of Paul, and had charge of the hand work of the older Junior boys. Rev. Watts taught Bible history and had charge of the manual training work of the larger boys. The health and habit talks which were given this year for the first time were given by Dr. C. E. Beatty who spoke more particularly on the care of the teeth, and Dr. T. H. McCann, and Dr. W. G. Cheney and Miss Ina Blume who spoke on their tasks and the relation of the children to them.

The band work was displayed in the sewing room of the building and ranged from flower pedestals, salt boxes, nail boxes, to quilts, picture framing with glass and plaster paris. Paper cutting, memory chains, dresses made by the larger girls and aprons by the Juniors. This was by far the best school put on in New Boston and will call for a larger work next year.

The appreciation of the out of door services on Sunday evening on the campus of the Methodist church on Glenwood avenue is shown by the attendance and interest. Special music will be furnished from the Immanuel Baptist church and the best sermon obtainable will be given. There will be good congregational singing, plenty of seats for the crowds and room to park your automobile in hearing distance.

other troops would come in case of trouble.

No Haste About Sending Troops

After having been in conference until after midnight, with military officers, with whom he went over the coal strike situation, Governor Davis reiterated today his purpose to keep Ohio troops in readiness "to move on the double quick" if necessary, but to refrain from sending them into the field unless local authorities can no longer control the situation.

In a statement this morning, Governor Davis announced that last night's conference had decided unanimously that no phase of the strike situation now would justify use of troops, as local authorities are still keeping conditions in hand.

The conference, held at the governor's home, was called immediately after Governor Davis had issued an order mobilizing in their local armories two companies of motor trucks and one battalion of infantry, including a machine gun company. The troops ordered in readiness are from General Ohio.

Conditions in each mining district were presented to the conference by representatives of the governor, who had made personal investigations. Those participating in the conference included Adjutant General Florence, Brigadier General John McQuigg, of Cleveland, Brigadier General Frank D. Henderson, of Marysville, Colonel Chalmers Wilson, and Colonel Robert Haubrich, of Columbus, who will have command of the troops now mobilized.

Governor Issues Statement

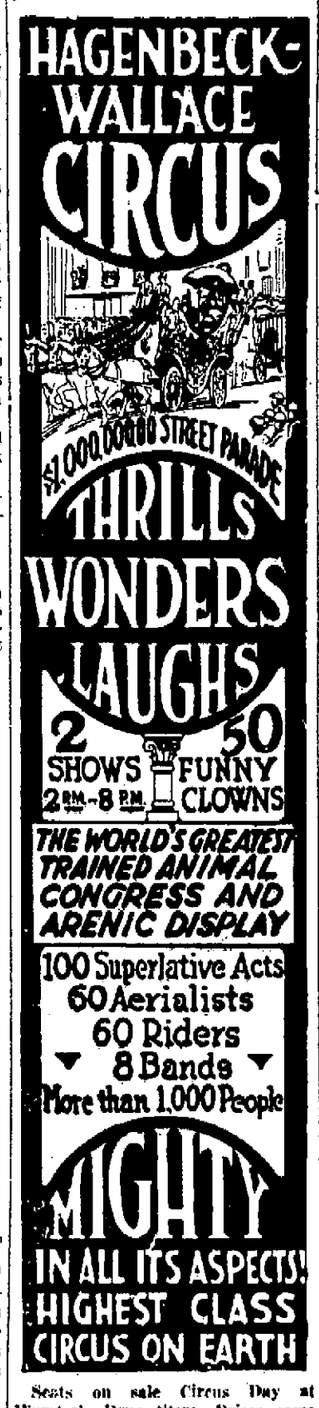

The governor issued the following statement this morning concerning the mobilization of the Ohio National Guard units.

"It is to be borne in mind in connection with the conclusion reached at the conference at my home last night, whatever may be the respective leanings of the contending sides in the coal strike, for or against the calling out of the guard and the pressure that is sought to be exerted in some instances, that we are solely concerned in taking such action as will safeguard and promote the general public welfare. The interest of all the people demands maintenance of peaceful conditions. Calling out of the guard short of that purpose would be an abuse of authority. So long as each community can, through their lawfully constituted local authorities, maintain order and prevent lawlessness, military action by the state would be as subversive of the public good as would delay in sending troops when really needed.

"Local officials should understand that the state government now is and will continue to be prepared to take hold of the situation in any locality where it seriously threatens to get out of the control of the local authorities. So far, that has not been the case.

"We expect them to enforce the law, but stand firmly behind them to uphold and back up their efforts in that direction. The people may rest assured that as soon as it appears that protection of life and property justifies and demands such action, troops now being kept in readiness, will move on the double quick."

old, and had been a widow only a few months, rallied to her defense and asserted that any aspersions on her character and reputation, had basis only in "idle gossip."

The coroner announced the inquest over Mrs. Meadows' body would be held Monday.

Phillips Detained

Phillips has been detained as a material witness and will be held as such, according to the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Phillips, who is 23 years old, is said to have had a brief experience with a comedy motion picture company as a "bathing girl".

Mrs. Caffe went to the scene of the slaying yesterday and showed officers the exact spots where she said the argument and ensuing physical struggle between the two women took place.

Girl Asked For Help

"After Mrs. Phillips began striking Mrs. Meadows with the hammer," said Mrs. Caffe, "the girl was asking me to help her and I went toward her."

"All the girl said was, 'Lady, save me.' I didn't hear her say anything else. And when I looked back I saw Mrs. Phillips hitting her.

"She didn't say much when I got back in the girl's car. I saw the blood on her arms and she said, 'Wipe my face off,' and I took my handkerchief and did it.

"Mrs. Phillips said, 'To anybody that can take my husband away from me, I can do that again.'

"She drove Mrs. Meadows' car back, going as fast as ever she could down the hill and way down along the car line on the street there and kept on until she came to her home."

Strike Situation At Chillicothe

The Chillicothe News Advertiser said:

"Five more men, who were recently reclassified, when a walkout was ordered, thus holding them in service, joined the ranks of the local striking shopmen today. The cases of other men still held under the reclassification order of the railroads were being consideerd today and several more are expected to walk out locally within a day or so. The local total of strikers is now 506.

The five men who walked out today were included originally in the sanction to suspend work, but due to some technicalities their cases were taken under advisement and decisions rendered Thursday, it was stated in Friday's union bulletin.

It was learned from official sources that two of the strikebreakers at the local shops were in attendance at the morning meeting of the executive committee of the local federated shop crafts. It is understood that these men are leaving here today.

Former Resident Found Dead

Wilton A. Miller, aged 69, a former well known resident of this city, was found dead in bed at his home in Pamplin, Va., Friday. He had not been in good health and his death was attributed to heart trouble.

Mr. Miller and family resided at Second and Offnere streets for many years. In addition to his wife he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Herbert McCall, of West Virginia, and Mrs. John Wade, who is in Montana. He was a son of the late Capt. Isaac Miller of this city and leaves a half brother, Attorney Harry W. Miller and a half sister, Miss Margaret Miller of this city.

Masons Open New Home Drive Monday

July 17 is the date set for the opening of the financial campaign for the new Masonic Temple which will be built on the big lot just west of the high school on Gallia street and now occupied by the Pearl Selby home.

Plans for the campaign were discussed at a supper gathering of the committee in charge last evening. It was announced that two suppers would be served during the campaign by the members of the Eastern Star, who expect to pledge liberally towards the fund for the new Temple.

The campaign committee will endeavor to call on every member as each and every member will no doubt want to do his share in helping build a Temple that will be second to none in this part of the country.

Various plans have been carefully gone over by the committee to get ideas as to the building best suited to the needs and conditions. An additional strip of ground on the west side of the building location was recently purchased giving a 100 foot frontage on Gallia street with a depth of about 425 feet on which to erect the Temple, which makes the location more closely meet requirements.

The executive committee is composed of Geo. E. Carlyle, H. F. Bertram, Gilbert S. Monroe, A. E. Singleton, H. C. Weller and John A. Ives.

Miss Streich On Committee

A statewide Women's Booster Committee supporting the candidacy of Thad H. Brown, Republican candidate for Secretary of State and composed of representative women from every county in Ohio has been formed with Mrs. John Gordon Battelle, State President of the Women's Clubs of Ohio, as chairman. This general endorsement by the women of the state of the candidacy of Major Brown is highly gratifying to his campaign committee, and is undoubtedly due to the fact of his clean record in public life and also because he is the only World War Veteran ing the Republican ticket for Secretary of State. Miss Mary Brandon is the secretary of the committee, and together with Mrs. Brown, wife of the candidate, has een making a statewide campaign tour in order to meet personally the women interested in Major Brown's candidacy.

Others prominent on the committee include Mrs. Joseph Benson Foraker, Cincinnati; Mrs. Jns. J. Thomas, wife of the mayor of Columbus; Mrs. William Rockel, president of the Clark County Republican club, Cleveland, and Miss Edna M. Streich of Portsmouth.

Schmidt To Sign

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15—Walter Schmidt, catcher of the Pittsburg National League baseball team, has come to terms with the team management and will leave for the East next week to join the club, according to dispatches from Yosemite Valley, where Schmidt is visiting. He has been a holdout since last year, his demand for $10,000 a year having been refused.

Teachers Are Employed

Special To Times

PIKETON, July 15—At a meeting of the Piketon Board of Education Thursday evening the following teachers were employed for the coming year: Superintendent, Virgil S. Flynn, Huntington, W. Va.; Principal, E. O. Exman, Granville, Ohio; High School teachers, Miss Ethel Jones, Granville, Ohio, and Miss Dorothy Angevine, Pataskala, Ohio; Seventh and Eighth Grades, Esten Holt, West Union; Fifth and Sixth Grades, Daniel Farmer; Third and Fourth Grades, Miss Daisy McClay, Coopersville, Ohio; Second Primary, Miss Emma Crawford, West Union; First Primary, Miss Ina Cooper, Piketon. Miss Jones, who was employed as one of the High School teachers last year, is the only member of the High School faculty that was re-employed. Supt. C. C. Myers, who has been superintendent of the schools for the past three years, was given the refusal of that position for another year, but Myers has decided to retire from the teaching profession temporarily and has accepted a position as District Manager for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, his territory bing the counties of Pike, Jackson, Lawrence and Gallia. J. F. Donnley, who was principal of the High School here last year, has decided to continue his preparation for the ministry, and Miss Marie Bricher, who taught in the High School last year, has accepted a position in the schools at Roswell, New Mexico. All of the grade teachers who taught in the Piketon schools were re-employed for the coming year. It is reported that Mr. Esten Holt has an offer in the Scioto Township centralized schools, but his acceptance is contingent on whether or not they are willing to offer a higher salary than the Piketon schools.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 15—The trend of prices at the opening of today's stock market was mainly upward, suggesting the usual week-end settlement of speculative accounts. Baldwin Locomotive was one of the noteworthy features, soon rising 1¾ points. High prices also ruled for American Woolen Coca-Cola, Sears-Roebuck, American Smelting, People's Gas and various miscellaneous issues. Rails were inclined to react, although an exception was shown by Western Pacific, which rose 1½ points. A decline of 1½ points in Pacific Oil was accompanied by news of cut in prices of crude oil products on the Pacific coast. All leading foreign exchanges were better on the improvement in the German situation.

Conflicting movements of a few of the leading industrials and oils furnished the only diverting features of today's brief and dull stock market. Equipments were strong at extreme gains of 1 to 4 points for Baldwin, American and Lima Locomotives, Pullman, Pressed Steel Car, and New York Airbrake. Domestic oils were heavy, presumably as a result of cuts in crude products in the middel west and Pacific coast states. Standard Oil of California, Pacific Oil and several of the Mexican group forfeited 1 to 2½ points. Specialties were firm to strong, particularly Corn Products, Sears-Roebuck, International Paper and American Woolen. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 325,000 shares.

Chicago Grain And Provisions

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAG, July 15—Wheat prices during the early dealings were governed largely by the strength in Liverpool. Short covering was much in evidence at the start and the local sentiment was mixed. The government report on Missouri, telling of damage by cinch bugs, which are said to be more menacing than at any time during the past 25 years in that section, also acted as a factor. After starting unchanged to ½c higher with September 1.13¾ to 1.14 and December 1.16⅝ to 1.16⅝, the wheat market held near to the initial range.

At the close prices varied from unchanged figures to ½c higher. September 1.14⅛ to 1.14¼ and December 1.16⅛ to 1.16¼.

Corn and oats were governed by the action in wheat. Trade in coarse grains was only fair. There was some buying of corn futures which was attributed to cash interests. The opening, which ranged from unchanged figures to ⅛c@¼c higher, with September 65¼, was followed by a gain all around. Oats started unchanged to ⅜c up, September 37, and then scored a slight further advance.

Higher quotations for hogs tended to lift provisions.

At the finish prices were unchanged to ⅛c lower, September 64⅞ to 65.

Friday, July 21—Central Labor vs Vulcan Last.

Determined to have a whole lot to say about where that "Industrial League pennant is going to be unfurled, the Central Labor gang of long distance sharp shooters gave the N. and W. lads a 7 to 6 trimming on Friday evening in one of those games that thrills with excitement until the last man has been retired. Big Otha Lewis probably saved the game for the Herder Herd when he relieved the tiring but game Mr. Frebis in the last frame. The big right hander, using his speed in the growing darkness, fanned two men, getting the first and the last batsmen via the waving route. A man was on third when Lewis shot three fast ones past Mr. Adkins and the jig was up.

The game was featured by some great slugging. Harry Dunham got a home run and triple and was a large ball of wax on both offensive and defensive. The big fellow hit 'em a mile and two furlongs and was quite instrumental in winning the game.

Frebis, who pitched for six innings, was effective most of the way, but was plainly tiring at the close and it was a splendid idea for Manager Switalski to call Lewis to the mound. Houston was on the hill for the Railroaders and he was never hit harder in his life. But at that had Manager Wells started Fannin behind the bat the chances are his team would have won. Conwell who essayed the job of back-stopping was in no condition to play, but he was left in an inning too long and gummed the works badly.

One of the features of the game was the hitting of Manager Wells of the Railroaders, who is setting a splendid example for his boys. He grabbed off four hits in as many trips to the plate, showing that he has at last found his batting eye and that some pitchers are in for a drubbing so far as he personally is concerned.

The game follows:

FIRST INNING

Schweinsberg rolled to Hicks at third. Stilwell grounded to Wells at short. Lewis rolled to second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Conwell fanned. Wells singled over short, but died stealing. Waits walked. C. Cooper also walked. Hicks singled to middle, Waits scoring. Fannin flied to Lewis. One run, two hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Dunham fanned but Conwell missed the third strike, "sheriff" taking first, and also took second on a passed ball. Conwell was taken out and Fannin went behind the bat. Meyers was sent to right. R. Keyser walked. Smith singled to left. Monk singled to right, scoring Dunham and Keyser. Grimm singled to left, Smith scoring. Frebis flied to middle. Schweinsberg hit into a double play when Hicks grabbed his liner and stepped on third. Three runs, three hits, one error.

E. Cooper fanned. Adkins walked. Houston popped to R. Keyser. Meyers fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING

Stilwell flied to Waits at second. Lewis fanned. Dunham rolled to Wells. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Wells singled to second. Waits fizzled to middle, Wells going to third and Waits to second. C. Cooper flied to Grimm. Hicks fanned. Fannin fouled to Dunham. No runs, two hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

Keyser took second on Adkins' muff. Smith sacrificed. Monk singled to left, Keyser scoring. Grimm rolled to third. Frebis flied to Adkins. One run, one hit, one error.

E. Cooper rolled to short. Adkins flied to Grimm. Houston singled to right. Meyers was safe on Keyser's error. Wells doubled to left, scoring Houston and Meyers, but Wells was pegged out at third, two runs, two hits, one error.

FIFTH INNING

Schweinsberg fouled to left. Stilwell rolled to second. Lewis grounded to short. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Waits fanned. C. Cooper grounded to Dunham. Hicks tripled to middle, a real smash. Fannin grounded to Dunham. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING

Dunham brought the Central Labor fans to their feet with a home run drive to center. Keyser followed with a triple to right. Smith tripled to center, scoring Keyser. Smith was out at the plate trying to emulate the example of Dunham. Elliott fanned. J. Keyser batted for Grimm and singled past short. Frebis singled to short. Schweinsberg beat out a bunt. Stilwell rolled to first. Two runs, six hits, no errors.

E. Cooper fouled to Stilwell. Adkins was safe on Keyser's fumble. Houston flied to to right. Meyers walked and on Stilly's wide peg to third, Adkins scored. Wells singled to left. Waits tripled to left, scoring Meyers and Wells. C. Cooper fouled to Stilwell. Three runs, two hits, two errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Lewis beat out a hit to short. Dunham tripled to left, scoring Lewis. Keyser popped to C. Cooper. Smith rolled to first. Elliott lined to the box. One run, two hits, no errors.

Lewis went to the mound for Central Labor and Bauer to right. Hicks fanned. Fannin doubled to middle. E. Cooper rolled to the box and Fannin was trapped. Cooper stole second and third in rapid succession. Adkins fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

CUBS RALLY

CHICAGO, July 15—Chicago defeated New York 8 to 4 in the final game of the series Friday. Virgil Cheeves replaced Jones in the first inning and tamed the visitors. His team mates lambasted the offerings of Earl Nehf, the Giants' star southpaw, and his successor, Jonnard and took a commanding lead. The hitting of Hack Miller, who drove out two home runs with a man on base each time was a feature. Score:

Saw Former Stars In Ohio State League

Floyd Smith, son of E. W. Smith, has returned from a two weeks' trip through eastern Ohio.

Last Sunday he played with the Zanesville Mark Grays, managed by Emmet Riley, a former manager in the Ohio State League.

The Zanesville papers speak glowingly of Smith's work, and it is understood that he was offered a contract to finish the balance of the season with the Grays, an offer which he turned down.

Smith took Homer Cain's place in the line-up. Cain, a former Portsmouth Ohio State League man, was out on account of an injury received while playing.

Floyd says Howdy Caton, who was also a member of the Portsmouth Ohio State League team, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, is the baseball idol of Zanesville, and is playing bang-up ball, knocking out a homer in both games Saturday and Sunday.

Emmett Cain, another former Portsmouth player, was in the line-up of the Canton team which played the Grays Sunday.

HERE ARE THE LATEST AVERAGES

Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland club, moved back into third place with an average of .364, deposing Harry Heilmann of Detroit, who dropped into fourth place with .354.

Sisler is without a dangerous rival in base stealing. He is showing his heels to the contenders with a string of thirty-two thefts, while Ken Williams, the home run hitters, is second in line with twenty-six.

The see-sawing fight between Williams and Tilly Walker of the Athletics for home run hitting continues with honors even, each having knocked out twenty-one. Ruth is down in the list with fourteen.

Other leading batters for fifty-five or more games: Miller, Philadelphia, .354; Schang, New York, .353; O'Neill, Cleveland, .349; Bassler, Detroit, .347; Blue, Detroit, .342; Witt, New York, .336; McManus, St. Louis, .333.

Perhaps the most impressive stick work in the National league was the batting of Charlie Hollocher, the "kid" shortstop with Chicago, who, in seven games, smashed out thirteen hits which enabled him to jump from ninth to third place in the list of leading sluggers with an average of .350.

Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, with his record of twenty-three home runs, continues to top the league in hitting with an average of .399, nine points above his mark of a week ago. Hank Gowdy of Boston is second with .372.

Max Carey of Pittsburgh is holding on to the lead in base stealing with twenty-two, with Tierney also of Pittsburgh, second with sixteen. Hornsby is third with fourteen.

Other leading batters for fifty-five or more games: Bigbee, Pittsburgh, .358; Johnston, Brooklyn, .357; Grimes, Chicago, .357; Daubert, Cincinnati, .355; Duncan, Cincinnati, .354; Carey, Pittsburgh, .345; Smith, St. Louis, .344.

Jay Kirke, the Louisville first baseman, is the new batting leader of the American Association. Kirke connected with seventeen hits in eight games, pulling himself from fourth place to the top of the heap within a week for an average of .381. Myatt of Milwaukee who led the race for several weeks, dropped into second place with .370. The average includes games of Wednesday.

Bunny Brief of Kansas City is safely in the lead in home run hitting, with a string of twenty-one, with Reb. Russell of Minneapolis second with sixteen, Krueger of Indianapolis and Becker of Kansas City are third with a dozen apiece.

TIES RECORD

ST. LOUIS, July 15 — Roger Hornsby of the St. Louis National tied the league home run record in Friday's game with Philadelphia by clouting his 24th circuit drive in the seventh inning off Hubbell. No one was on base. The record of 24 was made by "Gavvy" Cravath of Philadelphia in 1915. The previous national record was made by Ed Williamson of Chicago in 1884.

Buckeyes vs. Giants

The Portsmouth Buckeyes will cross bats with the fast Fullerton Giants at Coney Island Sunday, July 16. The game will be called at 2:30 sharp. Umpire Yeager.

CHICAGO, July 15—(By the Associated Press) — Ty Cobb's challenge for the batting leadership of the American league was no flash in the pan, judging from averages compiled today which show the Detroit leader closing the gap separating him from George Sisler, the St. Louis marvel, who is leading the race with an average of .420.

Cobb is just fourteen points behind Sisler, as compared with thirty-one a week ago. The noted Georgian's remarkable batting strea netted him 20 hits in his last 9 games, as against twelve hits collected by Sisler in eight games.

The figures on these batting rivals today are:

IMPROVING MOVIE MORALS

THE motion picture industry has suffered seriously in the estimation of self-respecting persons within the last year and producers are being aroused to the necessity of doing something to overcome the antagonism which has been aroused by the indiscrete conduct of certain actors and actresses.

Will H. Hays, who has been made the head of an important group of picture producers, has taken steps looking to reforms in the industry, and already there seems to be an improvement in the attitude of producers and actors towards the public. There are indications of a sincere desire to bring about needed reforms.

The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has initiated a movement which should have a marked effect upon the character and conduct of persons engaged by that company in the production of motion pictures. The proposed reforms have all the marks of being practical in character.

Directors in the Paramount studios will be required to make weekly reports on the health and conduct of each person engaged in the production of pictures, and these reports will be of the most minute and personal character. Failure to reach a certain standard will make the offender liable to dismissal.

"Members of the Paramount stock company", one of the rules says, "should guard their health as their most precious asset and avoid any conduct or circumstances that will put their health in peril. Proper exercises, sufficient sleep, fresh air, proper diet—all these are essential to good health. Avoid alcoholic stimulants and late hours."

This is fine advice for persons not engaged in the production of motion pictures, you will agree. If this rule and others adopted by the Paramount company are strictly enforced, there should be a marked improvement in the character of players and in the pictures which they are able to produce. No person can be at his best and violate the regulations set forth in the Paramount program for betterment.

CHARGE OF THE LIGHT BRIGADE

THE recent London dispatch reporting the death of a man supposed to have been the last survivor of the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava has resulted in the discovery that there still lives a member of that intrepid band. His name is Ellis Cutting, he is 85 years old, and his home is in Cedar Rapids, Ia.

It is doubtful if at any other period in history there has lived a man who saw stranger or more revolutionary changes occur in the world than this veteran of the Crimean war has observed. In that struggle Great Britain, France and Turkey were allied against Russia; 60 years later Russia, France and Great Britain were allied against Turkey. This is not so extraordinary. History is replete with similar cases. They should make one cautious in predicting what internations relationships may be even a few years ahead. Somewhat stranger are the developments that have occurred in military science, where high explosives, poison gas, airplanes and tanks have revolutionized warfare. Most interesting of all has been the passing of absolutism in government and the rise of democracy.

Even if no survivor of Balaklava still lived the charge of the Light Brigade would not soon be forgotten; for, apart from the fact that it has been immortalized by Tennyson, it stands out as one of those great, heroic exploits which the whole world loves to remember. Men of all nations can take pride in the courage of the dauntless "six hundred." They may well be held up as a model for soldiers the world over. "Theirs not to make reply, theirs not to reason why, theirs but to do and die." They typify discipline—"the habit of instinctive and instantaneous obedience under any and all circumstances."

FILIPINOS REFUSED

AS was expected President Harding has told the Filipino delegation petitioning for the independence of the islands, that he cannot set a date, near or distant, for the realization of their wish. But he has done it in a manner, despite his frank recognition that his position is none the less a keen disappointment, that must soothe, if it fails to satisfy, the national aspirations of his visitors and those they represent.

Admitting that, so far as expressed, the insular majority opinion favors the request for severance and self-government he told them that while the Washington treaties guaranteed their international status, complete independence would take them outside that guarantee. And the international understanding attempted by that conference has only begun the work it is hoped to accomplish eventually.

Until that day comes he believes the islands will be better in their present position under the shield of the United States, which is not oppressing them by taxation for American protection or policies, and has been extending their freedom and control in domestic affairs.

One difficulty is that election to congress cannot make a statesman out of a politician.

Regardless of who is at the head of the Russian government, the smell is just as offensive.

It is proposed to fight the civil war over with books. But even at that someone is likely to suffer damaged feelings.

Senator Borah appears to have become discouraged in his efforts to get the American government to recognize soviet Russia.

If congress stopped passing new laws until enforcement of Volsteadism were 100 per cent effective, what a vacation congress would have!

SAMSON CARRIES AWAY THE GATES

THE Philistines wanted Samson; they came against Israel and ruled them. Three thousand men of Israel bound Samson and brought him to the Philistines and they were pleased. The Lord gave Samson strength to break the cords and he slew a thousand men with the jaw bone of an ass. Samson went to Gaza. When the Gazites heard that he was coming they laid in wait at the city gates all night, planning to kill him. Samson lay still; at midnight he arose, took the doors of the gate and the posts and carried them to the top of a hill.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 15—Gone is Considine's! Also the Knickerbocker. And soon The Claridge becomes a memory. When the famous hotel closes its doors Broadway loses its last public meeting place for theatrical and sporting folk. The Claridge grill was the haven for the raconteurs. Wilson Mizner, Ren Wolf and a host of others told their "best ones" there.

In the main restaurant the noon breakfast crowds reflected the gay insouciance that is typical of the Rialto. Stars, producers, race track plungers, playwrights and the army of White Way gleaners, collected there to hail the day that began for them at the luncheon hour.

It was a gathering bristling with worldliness—the Broadway round table for the fop and sophist. One day at breakfast a skidding playwright beaming with a flock of before-breakfast cocktails lurched to George M. Cohan's table.

"Some day, Georgie, real soon I'm going to write you the great American drama."

"Fine," says Cohan above the din of popping corks, "this is the place to do it."

The Claridge, in the Broadway vernacular, "got away to a bad start." It was built by Charles E. Rector in 1912 and was known as Rector's. The same year a daring musical play called "The Girl From Rector's" was produced. It gave the new hotel a black eye.

It languished in one bankruptcy after another. Then Al Jolson and Nat Goodwin went there to live. Intended as a super-inn, the atmosphere became theatrical. It was called "The light-house" and some of the gayest parties of the midnight sons and daughters were held there.

At sunrise one morning Longacre Square was startled by a series of sharp explosions. It was discovered that a famous stage beauty was greeting the dawn's first blush by hurling champagne bottles at passing cabmen from her window.

The hotel then fell into wiser hands. In 1916 it started on an era of prosperity. With prohibition the cafe trade slumped. The management mimeographs to the press that it is closing because of "the unequal enforcement of the Volstead law." The truth is that it had its day. Broadway tires very quickly.

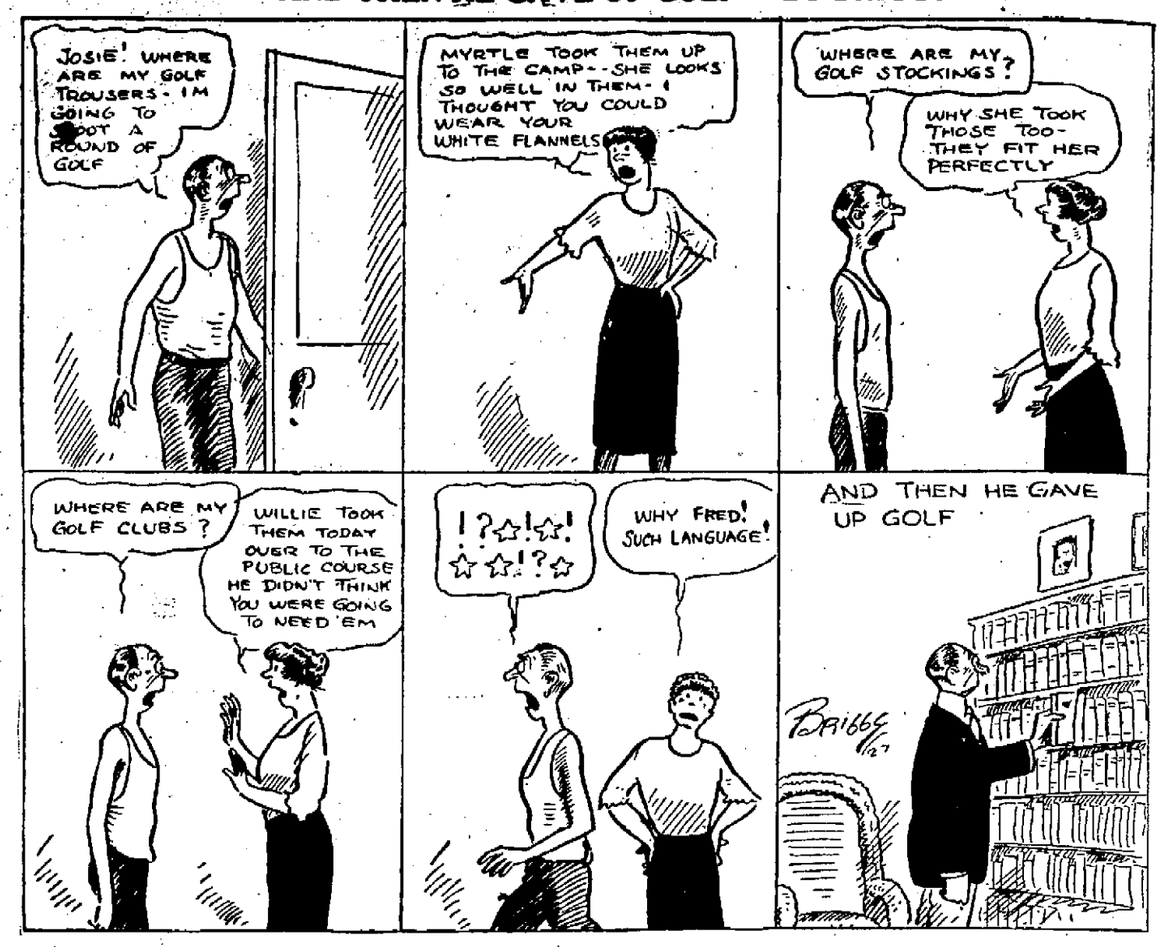

The Grand Central Red Caps are not to have exclusive rights at the big terminal. The Green Caps have arrived. It is the newest idea in service for the 200,000 people who use the terminal daily. A Message Exchange has been established on the main floor. The Green Caps will accept and deliver telephone messages for outgoing and incoming travellers. If the commuter has been detained in "a conference" and arrives at the train without the time to telephone his wife the Green Cap will attend to it for a fixed fee—10 cents.

Prowling about the Grand Central incidentally always provides something out of the ordinary. Coming up one of the long ramps the other afternoon was a full blood Indian—painted, feathered and beaded. In the opposite direction a flapper with pearl bowler derby and walking stick strolled along. They stopped to watch each other out of sight. The Indian gave a characteristic grunt. But the flapper could not resist calling out in the flapper argot: "Ain't you the one though?"

There are some who are really gluttons for punishment. The piccolo player in a Fourteenth Street moving picture palace confesses that in his moments of recreation he seeks to master the intricacies of one of those French horns.

Silver

Slowly, silently, now the moon
Walks the night in her silver shoon;
This way, and that, she peers and sees
Silver fruit upon silver trees;
One by one the casements catch
Her beams beneath the silvery thatch
Couched in his kennel, like a log,
With paws of silver sleeps the dog;
From their shadowy cote the white breasts peep
Of doves in a silver-feathered sleep;
A harvest mouse goes scampering by,
With silver claws and a silver eye;
And moveless fish in the water gleam
By silver reeds in a silver stream.

Another Trust

Boy—Father would like to know if there is such a thing as a tobacco trust.

Dealer—Yes, my boy, there is.

Boy—Well, father would like to be trusted with half a pound.

The Retort Sarcastic

It had been raining steadily all night, and in consequence the field was more like a lake than a football ground. But the sun was shining now, and a big crowd had assembled to see the game, so the referee decided that the match could not be postponed.

"What!" gasped the captain of the visiting team. "Surely you're not going to make us play under these conditions?"

"Certainly!" replied the knight of the whistle; then, seeing an angry retort forming on the captain's lips, he added: "Now don't hang about. You've won the toss. Which side are you taking?"

"Well, if we must play," came the answer, "I guess we'll kick with the tide!"

Safe!

An astronomer said in a lecture
That the sun would burn itself out in
About fifty million years.
A man in the audience rose, in great agitation.
"Pardon me, sir," he cried, "but how long did you say?"
"Fifty million years," replied the astronomer.
"Thank goodness," exclaimed the questioner. I thought you said five million!"

Had To Have Him

A candidate for municipal honors, irritated by the groans and unfriendly remarks with which he was received at one of his first meetings, exclaimed furiously: "I don't care what you say; you have got to have me whether you like me or not."

"Why, guv'nor," inquired a placid individual at the back of the hall, "you ain't the measles, are you?"

Intimidating His Teacher

The teacher was having trouble with little Bennie in school, his deportment was none too good.

"I will have to consult your father," she told him.

"That will cost you two dollars," answered Bennie. "He is a doctor." (Sent in by Mrs. H. M. Nolle, Titusville, Fla.).

Unforseen

Helen was at her first party. When refreshments were served she refused a second helping of ice cream with a polite, "No thank you," although she looked very wistful.

"Do have some more, dear," the hostess urged.

"Mother told me that I must say, 'No, thank you'", the little girl explained, "but I don't believe she knew how small the dishes were going to be."

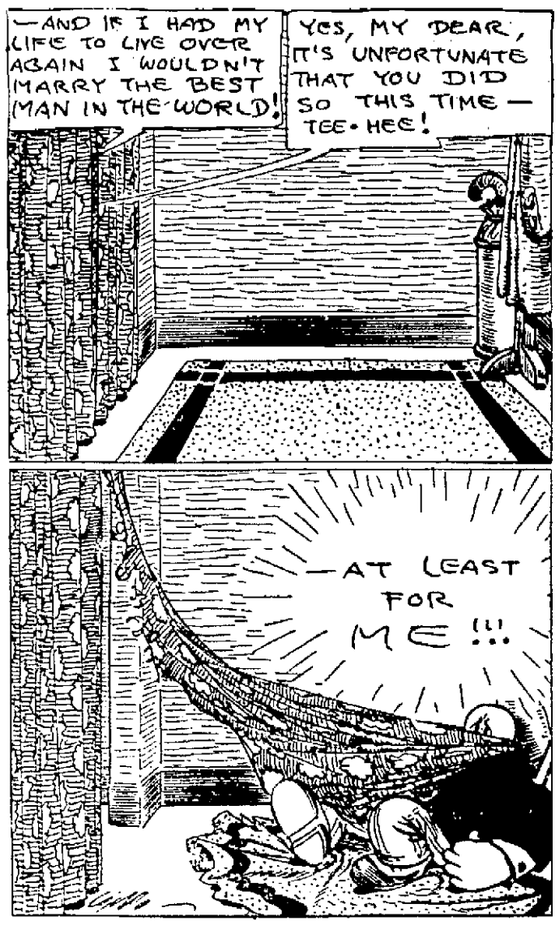

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You remember it is a woman's privilege to bow first when she meets any men acquaintances.

A young unmarried woman usually waits to be recognized first by an older or married woman.

The courteous woman never fails to recognize in all public places those who serve her in any capacity, or those she patronizes.
